

MRS. PANKHURST IS NOT ALLOWED ENTRY TO UNITED STATES

Immigration Officials Hold That English Militant Is Undesirable.

GRILLED BY A SPECIAL BOARD

"Moral Turpitude" Is Charged Against Leader of the "Votes for Women" Cause in England; Not a Fugitive from Justice, She Tells the Board.

By United Press.—NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A special board of inquiry has held Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English militant suffragette, to be "undesirable," and ordered her not to be permitted to enter this country.

Mrs. Pankhurst was interrogated for an hour by the special board of inquiry at Ellis Island and it was decided that the offenses alleged against her involved "moral turpitude." That being so there was nothing to do but order her to be prevented from landing. She was allowed the privilege of an appeal to Washington, however. This will be taken and if it fails the Federal courts will be resorted to just as in the case of Cipriano Carera.

When Mrs. Pankhurst arrived at Ellis Island on the La Provence, she was examined by Inspector George Moore. With her was Mrs. Rita Childs Dorr, an American citizen, who said that the suffragette leader would go to the home of Mrs. O. H. H. Belmont in New York as soon as she is allowed to land and remain there.

When asked if she had ever been arrested for larceny, or any other charge that would involve "moral turpitude," Mrs. Pankhurst said that nothing that she had ever done could be considered a felony. She said the conspiracy charge which is still hanging over her did not make her a fugitive from justice.

"I left England openly," she said, "accompanied by many relatives and friends. There was no attempt at secrecy."

Asked why suffrage has been secured in America without resort to militancy, Mrs. Pankhurst said that it was because of England's ultra-conservatism. Its traditions being so far reaching as almost to defy a change.

NEW IDENTITY FIRM
C. M. Evans and Lloyd J. Shaw Form Partnership.

C. M. Evans, who conducts a real estate business in the Second National Bank building, and Lloyd J. Shaw, who recently sold out his interest in the Griswold & Ritchey stationary store have formed a partnership and will conduct a general real estate, fire and life insurance business under the name of Evans & Shaw.

The new firm has engaged a suite of offices on the third floor of the bank building and their efforts were moved into them today.

Mr. Shaw, who is recorder for the Macabees, will conduct the business in connection with that office in his new location.

WILL GET GOOD JOB
Aide of Blankenburg to be Comptroller of Currency.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The office of Comptroller of the Currency which has been vacant since the resignation of Lawrence O. Murray, will be filled by the appointment of George W. Norris, director of docks and wharves of Philadelphia, who has the backing of Representative A. Mitchell Palmer as well as the new currency bill is enacted into a law.

The position pays $10,000 a year, and will take on a new importance when the new currency system is established. The comptroller of currency will be a member of the Federal Reserve Board and a personage of great influence.

LARGEST TELESCOPE
Brusher Company of Pittsburgh Gets Contract for Optical Parts.

ATLANTA, Oct. 18.—Pittsburgh and Cleveland firms will benefit as a result of contracts let by the Dominion Government for a telescope. Canada is going to have the largest telescope in the world. It will cost $20,750. It will be mounted in Ottawa in the vicinity of the present observatory.

The optical parts will be furnished by the John A. Brusher Company of Pittsburgh and the mechanical part by the firm of Warner & Swasey, Cleveland. The glass lens, six feet in diameter, forming part of the optical unit, has to be manufactured in Paris.

INDUSTRIAL FAIR PLANS
More Than Thirty Firms Will Participate in Exhibit This Year.

More than 30 firms have pledged their willingness to exhibit at the Industrial Fair to be held in the armory from October 27 to November 1, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the United Presbyterian Church. A similar fair, three years ago, was a big success, and it is expected that this year it will be even better.

An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged. There will be band concerts and other musical numbers on the program, while a prominent speaker will deliver an address on the opening evening.

BURGESS DIRECTS COPS TO WARN DRIVERS OF NEW RULES

Active Enforcement of Traffic Ordinance, However, Does Not Begin Until Monday.

Burgess Evans today directed the police department to begin the enforcement of the recently enacted traffic ordinance; that is, the patrolmen are to warn drivers who violate its provisions but not to make any arrests until Monday, when active enforcement of the measure will begin.

"There are drivers in town who do not know that a traffic ordinance has even been thought of," said the Burgess, "and it will be a good thing to put them wise to the fact that there is."

Chief Trotter was instructed to keep his eye open for automobilists and drivers who are violating the ordinance by "parking" their vehicles in front of business places and inform them that the practice must cease. The chief was told that the borough would stand back of the police department to the last notch if appeals are taken from arrests under the new law or in the event of any driver proving stubborn or resisting arrest.

Edward J. McManis, who for some time has been in charge of the traffic work on Main and Pittsburgh streets during the day was instructed to make drivers comply with the provision requiring them to stop on approaching that corner, indicate to the officer which way they want to proceed and then move his vehicle on ahead. The other provisions requiring vehicles to keep to the right in the direction they are going and permitting none but those who can do so without backing to turn in the business section, are also to be impressed upon the drivers by warnings.

SUBMIT BANK PLAN

Depositors and Stockholders Will Decide on First-Second Opening.

Depositors and stockholders of the First-Second National Bank of Pittsburgh will today receive from their respective committees a copy of the plan, together with recommendations, for the rehabilitation of that institution which closed its doors July 7 last.

The committee report they have found the bank has assets for its use of $2,000,000 in excess of its liabilities. They recommend that the institution be reorganized with a capital and surplus of $5,000,000—a reduction of the present capital stock to $2,000,000, followed by an increase of $3,000,000, which amount would be paid for subscription to get the bank to the point of operation at the rate of $125 a share, making a capital and surplus of substantially $5,000,000, the increased stock to be offered first to existing stockholders in accordance with their holdings, the remainder of the offering, not taken by the stockholders, to be taken by outside subscribers, to be taken by the bank's depositors, who shall become parties to the agreement under which the bank is to reopen, to the extent of 75 per cent of their respective deposits as a maximum subscription.

Only deposits having balances of $2,000 and upward in the bank, excluding the savings department, will be asked to subscribe.

WANT MORE PAVING

Snydertown Residents Ask Extension of Work on Thoroughfare.

A petition is being circulated among property owners on Snyder street, near the borough limits, to have the paving on that thoroughfare extended about 100 feet and thus take in its entire length. Although seven inches have been secured and those at the head of the movement hope to get enough additional signatures to insure favorable action by council.

When the original contract to pave Snyder street was made, Arthur P. Snyder, mayor of Snyder, and the work began, a petition was presented by three property owners asking that 110 more feet be included in the contract, and council decided to do so, the contractor agreeing to do the work under the previous contract. Now comes the proposition to pave the whole street.

It is estimated that to do the whole job would cost about $14,000, of which the borough's share would be one-third and each property owner's share one-third of the balance on his property.

It is believed however that council will not undertake the additional paving unless every property owner signs the petition.

L. L. WEST IS ILL
Suffers from the Effects of a Partial Stroke Last August.

L. L. West, assessor in the Fourth Ward, is ill at his home on East Fifth avenue from the effects of a partial stroke suffered in August while registering voters. He has been ill for about a week and for the past few days has been confined to his bed.

His arm and leg are partially paralyzed. His condition is not considered serious.

Farmer Collins Retires
L. L. Collins, one of the oldest and most widely known farmers of Dunbar township, sold at public sale on Thursday his farming implements and stock.

Mr. Collins has resided on a farm on the state road between Connellsville and Vanderbilt for about 20 years and while retiring from active work he will still continue to live on the farm.

County Educators to Meet
The regular meeting of the Fayette County Educational Association will be held Saturday, November 1, in the Uniontown High School auditorium.

Sample Cochran of the Leisegang school, C. S. Rowan of the Trotter school, and L. W. Jones of the Dawson school, are among the speakers.

Burning Volturino and Two Rescue Ships, Rescue Scene and Group of the Saved

THE GENERAL VIEW SHOWS THE VOLTURINO BURNING, WITH TWO OF THE RESCUE SHIPS NEAR BY. AT THE RIGHT IS ANOTHER PICTURE, A LIFEBOAT IS SEEN RETURNING TO THE GROSSER KURFUEHST WITH RESCUED PASSENGERS. THE SEA LED CALMED IN THE TIME THIS LAST WAS SHOT. THE PICTURE OF SOME OF THE RESCUED PASSENGERS AND CREW ABOARD THE KURFUEHST WAS TAKEN WHEN THE SHIP REACHED PORT AT NEW YORK WITH HER 105 RESCUED SOULS.

CANDIDATES MEET; ENTHUSIASTIC OVER CAMPAIGN OUTLOOK

Republicans Confident of Success All Along the Line.

CLEAN FIGHT, THEIR WATCHWORD

Discuss Various Aspects of the Situation and Arrange for Perfect Organization in Every Ward; Harrison Elected Chairman of Democrats

Confidence and enthusiasm marked the meeting of the Republican candidates in Hooper & Long's shoe store last night. It was an enthusiastic meeting. Every ward was represented and most of the nominees on the ticket were present. Success at the polls is assured, Republican candidates say, if the same interest manifested at the initial get-together party continues.

The meeting was informal. No set agenda was followed. There was a free and frank discussion of the political situation. It was a heart-to-heart talk. Many of the candidates admitted being new to politics, and said they looked to more experienced men for suggestions. It was a gathering of citizens rather than politicians.

Frederick Kirtz, manager for many years of the city, outlined the attitude of himself and the other men to be elected at large, that is, the candidates for council and controller. He made a plea for harmony and co-operation, urged every candidate to become active in his own behalf and in behalf of the others. Continuing he said:

"I hope the other candidates, and the men at the head of the ticket, are in accord with my views, will absolutely abstain from any improper use of money, and make a clean, open-air, aboveboard fight. We want to see old political tactics eliminated. If we cannot be elected without the use of money, we would rather be defeated."

"We feel that if this election is other than honest, we will go into office humiliated and with our hands tied. We want to see a clean, open-air, aboveboard fight. If such condition prevails, if elected, we go into office having made no promises and assumed no obligations other than to serve the public faithfully and to the best of our ability."

This sentiment was heartily endorsed by the candidates present. Some tactics of the opposition were roundly scored. One speaker said: "The time has passed that gave license to abuse a man because he is willing to take public office. Business men have long refused to accept nominations because of the unjust business slanders that have been heaped upon them. Any man who takes office in the new city of Connellsville must make sacrifices. He will be required to neglect his own interests to serve the public. This spirit of civic righteousness should

"TRAP WON'T DROP," MAUS DECLARES, AS SCAFFOLD IS TESTED

Somerset Murderer, Doomed to Die Thursday, Hurts Defiance at Jailers.

BARKS LIKE A DOG IN CELL

Man Who Killed Mail Carrier Is Insane, His Friends Declare; Hope for Reprieve at Hands of Governor; Death Warrant Long Awaiting.

Special to The Courier.

SOMERSET, Oct. 18.—"You fellows can't scare me with anything like that," said John W. Maus in the Somerset jail yesterday afternoon when the death trap, on which he is to be executed next Thursday, was tested. Maus became profane and showed signs of insanity when the trap was sprung five or six times, hurling vile names at the sheriff and his assistants.

"It won't do me any harm," he exclaimed, "but when you get me on the scaffold some power that you fellows know nothing about will prevent it from falling. I didn't kill Brown and I will never be hanged."

Ever since he was convicted Maus has stoutly maintained that he is innocent and has not given up hope of a reprieve at the hands of the governor. The warrant for his execution, next Thursday between the hours of 10 A. M. and 3 P. M.

Maus, in the solitude of his cell, it is reported, periodically barks like a dog, whines like others of the lower animal kingdom, and in other ways by his actions and conversation shows what many people believe are unmistakable indications of his insanity.

The trap was repaired and tested yesterday by Sheriff Charles P. Hochard, assisted by ex-Sheriff C. H. Weidner and Deputy Sheriff Edward L. Kiefer. The jail officials say that the death trap is in first class shape, and anticipate no trouble on the day of Maus' execution, unless Maus would have to be forced onto the scaffold.

From Maus' statements made recently as well as his long record of insanity, it has not given up hope of being committed to the asylum for 72 hours is default of a $5 fine. He said he didn't remember anything about the killing.

It is rumored that an effort will be made to have Governor Tener grant a reprieve before the hour set for the condemned man's execution, but as far as can be learned such action on the part of any of the governor's friends has not yet been made public.

A reprieve would not come as a surprise inasmuch as a determined effort was made to have the State Board of Pardons commute his sentence to life imprisonment. The board gave him several hearings, and there was unusual delay in the arrival of the death warrant, after the Governor fixed the date for his execution.

THE WEATHER
Fair tonight and colder; Sunday fair, is the noon weather forecast.

Temperature 1913 1912
Maximum ..... 73 68
Minimum ..... 62 51
Mean ..... 68 59

The Young river rose from 36 to 35 during the night.

REPAIRS TO CHURCH
The Methodist Episcopal church at Adelphi is being repaired and roofed, and on Sunday afternoon, October 26, at 2 o'clock, it will be reopened with daily services in the Sunday school. Rev. H. A. Baum will preach at 3 o'clock.

Dunbar Infant Operated On
John Kane, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kane of Dunbar, underwent a slight operation this morning at the South Side Private Hospital.

JOHNSTOWN HERE FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL'S BIG GAME

Come to Town Several Hundred Strong in Special Train Over the Pennsylvania.

Despite unfavorable weather, the season's biggest football game, so far as Connellsville is concerned, will be called promptly at 2:30 this afternoon at Fayette Field. Johnstown High School team, accompanied by several hundred rooters, arrived at 11:30 in a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad. The visitors will not return until 8 o'clock tonight.

Rooting students rally was held last night in the high school building. Steve Rotundi, the cheer-leader, gave the students a chance to exercise their lungs, while the band played popular airs, principally "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

Speakers were made by members of the faculty and friends of the school. This afternoon the Connellsville Military Band will take part in the festivities. Burgess Evans detailed several policemen to keep the spectators from crowding over the ropes.

NO FAVORS FOR GIRLS

Three Now in Lockup Must Accept Usual Regulations.

Another bird was added to the two already caged in the city hall this morning, when Olive Lemons of Connellsville, who said she was 25 years old, was sent back for a term of five days for disorderly conduct. She was arrested last night by Officer Withers in a box car in company with a man. The latter left a forfeit of $5 and was released, but, as usual, the woman, being unable to pay, was left to pay the penalty.

When arraigned Olive said she had not been disorderly. "Why didn't you make him pay $10?" she demanded of Burgess Evans. The latter told her to watch out or she might have to pay more than that.

Mails sent in from the restaurants to the female prisoners were directed to be stopped, and the practice of lending the "ladies" some of the more comfortable chairs from the chief's office discontinued by order of the Burgess, who is determined that the girls shall be punished properly. None of the comforts of home are to be allowed any more.

VETERAN IS DEAD

John N. Anderson Was Formerly a Resident of Fayette.

John Nelson Anderson, 78 years old and well known in Fayette county, died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. L. Trow at Charlestown. Mr. Anderson was a veteran of the Civil War and taught school in various towns in Fayette county for 40 years, including a number of terms at Dunbar and in Dunbar township. He was also a newspaper correspondent for 30 years.

He is survived by his widow, who before her marriage was Miss Magie Turner of Fayette county, and one daughter, Mrs. Trow. He was an uncle of Frank and William Anderson of Dunbar.

RAILROAD CONTRACT LEE

H. & N. to Rush Its Extension Into Fairmont From Hivesville.

FAIRMONT, Oct. 18.—Rheinhardt & Dennis of Charlottesville, Va., were awarded the contract for the extension of the Rockingham & Northern railroad from Hivesville into Fairmont, through the Palatine section for 3.6 miles.

This includes the big railroad bridge across the Monongahela river at Cayakva. Work is to be started at once and pushed to completion. The contractors expect to have 500 men on the job within a month.

LOSES HIS FINGERS

Lad Explodes Dynamite Cap With Usual Result.

John Schroyer, 11 years old of Mill Run, suffered the loss of two fingers and a thumb on his left hand yesterday when he exploded a dynamite cap which he struck with a stone, exploded. The injured members were so badly mangled that amputation was necessary on his removal to the Cottage State Hospital.

Victor Venonics of Davidson was operated on last evening for appendicitis.

COUNCIL DOESN'T MEET

Seven Members Needed for Quorum Fail to Appear.

There were only four members of the board of health called the regular meeting to order. This being seven short of a quorum, and there being little possibility of more members appearing, the board adjourned until the first Friday in November.

Fluorine was much business to be transacted, however, Burns said, as the members dispersed.

Which Was He Used For?
For being "drunk and kissing a lady," as the police docket expressed it, George Hart of Logan's Crossing, is committed to the lockup for 72 hours in default of a $5 fine. He said he didn't remember anything about the kissing.

Repairs to Church
The Methodist Episcopal church at Adelphi is being repaired and roofed, and on Sunday afternoon, October 26, at 2 o'clock, it will be reopened with daily services in the Sunday school. Rev. H. A. Baum will preach at 3 o'clock.

Dunbar Infant Operated On
John Kane, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kane of Dunbar, underwent a slight operation this morning at the South Side Private Hospital.

AUDIT SHOWS COST OF $80,000 TO RUN SCHOOLS LAST YEAR

Searching Investigation Into Finances Finds Books in Good Shape.

MINOR RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

Recharge of $16.36 Results From an Error of Secretary and Has Been Adjusted to Satisfaction of the Board; Good Salaries Paid Here.

The report of J. Melvin Grey and Fred D. Munson, who audited the books of the Connellsville School Board for the year which ended in June, shows that it cost approximately $80,000 to run the schools during that period. The books of the board were found to be in excellent shape. The audit this year was more searching than ever before, promoted largely by an investigation threatened by the Municipal League which never materialized. For the first time the auditors, it is said, scrutinized every bill which had been paid by the board. Heretofore the audits, while carefully made, have not included such details.

Of the $80,000 the board during the year the auditors had but a single criticism. They made a surcharge against the board of $16.36. Investigation showed that $56.21 had been paid the Connellsville Water Company, when bills for only $39.85 had been presented. The surcharge has already been adjusted, an error having been made by Secretary C. W. Hays, who unintentionally included several bills of Hays, Porter & Co. in running over the totals. The mistake was discovered by the water company and referred to the School Board. As the error had been caught after the close of the fiscal year, the auditors refused to permit an adjustment of the matter, but made a surcharge.

The auditors make two suggestions in their report. One is that a regular cash book be employed in keeping the account of tuition fees paid, and the other that a bond book be opened. Members of the board say that the present method of keeping an account of tuition fees is for the auditor to the one suggested by the auditors and this recommendation will likely be ignored.

In their tabulated report, which covers several typewritten pages and is more complete than usual, the auditors give the following information concerning the schools:

Number of schools, 6; number of months, 9; male teachers, 13; female teachers, 55; average salary, male, $98.50; average, female, $66.50.

Male pupils enrolled, 1,250; female pupils enrolled, 1,425; total pupils enrolled, 2,675; average attendance, 2,075; cost per pupil per month, $22.55.

Tax levied for school purposes, $47,522.51; tax levied for sinking fund, $12,428.55; total tax levied, $60,151.06.

The cost of running the schools for the year is shown in the following tabulation of the auditors:

Teachers salaries ..... $43,848.65
Teachers' lunches ..... 290.00
Janitors' salaries ..... 5,096.32
Secretary's salary ..... 400.00
Treasurer's salary ..... 150.00
Attorney's salary ..... 100.00
Trust officer ..... 450.00
Sewer to Sept. ..... 477.00
Text books ..... 2,204.80
School supplies ..... 2,339.92
Building supplies ..... 806.33
Repairs ..... 1,125.63
Improvements ..... 496.62
Fuel, light and water ..... 1,433.51
Canteen and library ..... 2,700.00
Tax Collector's fees ..... 2,606.74
Bonds and interest ..... 7,777.50
Notes and interest ..... 5,529.35
Phone rental ..... 137.55
Freight, postage, etc. ..... 226.79
Supt's convention ..... 149.49
City institute ..... 278.39
Directors' convention ..... 40.35
County convention ..... 2.50
Vaccination ..... 5.00
Auditing ..... 81.10
Insurance ..... 225.00
Tax dup., adv., etc. ..... 111.00
Furniture ..... 222.30
School organization ..... 90.23
State tax ..... 256.50
Bond election ..... 252.37

The high cost of living has also hit the auditing business. The cost last year was $81.10. This year the auditors certify to an expenditure of $111. They submit bills for 10 days at $5 a day each, or $100; the stenographer says $10 for typing the report, while the notary collected $1 for the affidavits.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES
Mrs. G. W. Sechrist Passes Away in Oklahoma.

Word has been received here from Watonga, Okla., of the death of Mrs. J. W. Sechrist, Monday, October 8. Mrs. Sechrist was born and reared in Connellsville and was widely known among the older residents.

In addition to her husband she is survived by four children and the following brothers: T. M. Conroy of Towson, Ill.; G. M. Conroy of Peoria, Ill.; F. M. Conroy of Hazlewood, and one sister, Mrs. John Landis of Connellsville.

Opening Clogged Sewer
The sewer on Public Avenue which was clogged as being blocked to such an extent that it was unable to carry off the drainage, is being opened by the highway force of the borough.

SOCIETY.

Bible Class Meets.
The Woman's Bible Class of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George McCormick on North Eighth street. While there was a small attendance, the meeting was one of great interest. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Annual Turkey Supper.
At the regular meeting of the Onward Class of the Methodist Protestant Sunday school held last evening at the home of Mrs. E. E. Miller on North Pittsburgh street, arrangements were made for the annual turkey supper to be given Thursday evening, November 12, at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

La and S. Dances.
An enjoyable dance was held last evening in St. Vincent de Paul's hall at Leavenworth street, the auspices of the L. and S. Club. The music was furnished by Kiefer's orchestra. A number of guests from Conneltsville were present.

Halloween Party.
Miss Mildred Coleman will entertain at a Halloween party Friday evening, October 21, at her home on Morrill avenue, Greenwood.

Will Discuss Anti-Suffrage.
Anti-Suffrage will be discussed at the regular meeting of the Woman's Culture Club to be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. S. McKee on Ninth street, Greenwood. Mrs. Milton Williams and Mrs. James H. Head of Pittsburgh, prominent in anti-suffrage work, and sent here by the Anti-Suffrage Association, are the speakers. All members are urged to attend, and may invite guests.

Wedding Announcements.
Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Lida M. Victor of Fairmont, and Charles Heath Dodds of East Palestine, Pa., solemnized on Thursday, October 15, at the home of the bride. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Dodds will be at home in East Palestine, Pa. The bride was a trained nurse and spent some time nursing private cases in Conneltsville. She has many friends here.

GIRLS! STOP WASHING THE HAIR WITH SOAP.
Soap Dries Your Scalp, Causing Dandruff. Then Hair Falls Out—Try This New Time.

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dandruff. Danderine is a pure, natural, and perfectly safe hair dressing. It will make your hair soft, smooth, and shiny. It will also keep your hair from falling out. It will also keep your hair from becoming dry and brittle. It will also keep your hair from becoming greasy and sticky. It will also keep your hair from becoming itchy and irritated. It will also keep your hair from becoming red and inflamed. It will also keep your hair from becoming sore and painful. It will also keep your hair from becoming swollen and tender. It will also keep your hair from becoming numb and dead. It will also keep your hair from becoming stiff and brittle. It will also keep your hair from becoming weak and thin. It will also keep your hair from becoming gray and white. It will also keep your hair from becoming bald and thinning. It will also keep your hair from becoming dry and brittle. It will also keep your hair from becoming greasy and sticky. It will also keep your hair from becoming itchy and irritated. It will also keep your hair from becoming red and inflamed. It will also keep your hair from becoming sore and painful. It will also keep your hair from becoming swollen and tender. It will also keep your hair from becoming numb and dead. It will also keep your hair from becoming stiff and brittle. It will also keep your hair from becoming weak and thin. It will also keep your hair from becoming gray and white. It will also keep your hair from becoming bald and thinning.

WHERE DOES IT GO?
A Simple, Easy and Safe Way to Find Out.

Frequently, in talking with your married friends you have heard them say: "John gets a good salary but somehow we are always hard up. We never know where the money goes but it goes. There's an easy remedy for such a state of affairs. If John and his wife would pay their bills by check they would not only know where the money went, but the record in their check book would show where savings could be made. Paying by check costs nothing. It is at least worth the trial and the First National of Conneltsville invites your account, no matter how small. Write or call for booklet, "Ten Advantages of Paying by Check."—Adv.

ANOTHER ONE.

Red Eagles Here to Form a Lodge.
A. Robinson and B. F. Miller, organizers of the Red Eagles, a new fraternal order, arrived in town yesterday to make preliminary plans for the institution of a lodge here. They are at present working in Mount Pleasant where they expect to institute a lodge of 300 members by October 25.

In Johnstown they launched a lodge of nearly 1,000 members. Mr. Miller is a former Conneltsville boy, but this is only his second visit here in 20 years. Mr. Robinson is also a former resident of this section, having been employed by the Baltimore & Ohio some years ago.

Wagon Hurt at All.
J. H. Burkhardt, the Baltimore & Ohio brakeman who was reported seriously injured in a runaway on Bakerstown hill, denies the report. The information was sent to The Courier by a person signing his name as C. W. Perce. Mr. Burkhardt stated he doesn't know anyone by that name.

Stable Boss Held Up.
Roy Harbaugh, stable boss for the H. C. Park & Carriage Company at Brinkerton, who at work last night was held up and robbed of a considerable sum of money and a check.

Reception for Pastor.
Members of the congregation of the United Brethren Church at Abona held a reception Tuesday evening at the parsonage at Madison in honor of the pastor Rev. J. H. Klein and wife.

Is Here on a Visit.
Rev. Ernest L. Kennedy, pastor of St. Margaret's Roman Catholic Church at Rayon, La. Ind., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Radtke on North Pittsburgh street.

PERSONAL.

Miss Rose McArdle, a stenographer in Pittsburgh, is visiting at her home.
W. D. Gilchrist, formerly of Conneltsville and now of Ambridge, is in town today.

Mrs. George Jaynes of Greenwood went to Gates this afternoon to visit relatives.
Miss Margaret Hendine and Mrs. E. Doster and daughter of Monaca, Pa., are the guests of Mrs. I. Radtke of Carnegie avenue.

Miss Mabel Jaynes of Greenwood is a new stenographer for the Conneltsville Machine & Mine Supply Company.
Grays, browns, blues and blacks—everything that's new in Fall wear, for suits or overcoat—we have it, priced from $15 to $50. Dave Colton, Tailor.—Adv.

Mrs. Margaret Jack of Marysville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Getchell, of North Pittsburgh street.
Mrs. Cyrus Echard is visiting relatives in Uniontown today.

Miss Alice O'Connor, a stenographer in Pittsburgh, will spend Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Connor.
Senator William E. Crow was here last evening on his way to Philadelphia to look after some matters connected with his duties as Chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Miss Louise Cole went to Normalville this morning.
Mrs. Frank Yonkin of Pennsylvania, was the guest of relatives at Mill Run yesterday.

Mrs. Phillip Riley went to Ohio this morning to visit relatives.
Shirley and Mrs. M. A. Kiefer of Uniontown are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hays of Davidson avenue.

Mrs. Fannie H. Vance of Cedar avenue, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Gilliland of Bellevue.
Mrs. C. A. Hickey of West Main street, who has been ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fothergill near Scottsdale, is recovering.

Ferdinand Guth, a well known stock raiser of Franklin township, near Hartley, was in town today on business.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 18.—Because he feared the sight of fashionably garbed women in diaphanous gowns and silk skirts, barrooms and other wicked things of the lighted streets of Detroit might lead him to sin, John Linandrous, a young Greek of this place, obeyed the Bible injunction literally and destroyed the sight of his right eye.

Linandrous returned recently from Detroit, where he was given treatment, and appeared yesterday wearing a new glass eye to replace the one destroyed.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

Mrs. Eaton as She Looks at Trial for Slaying Rear Admiral, and Court House

Mrs. Jennie May Eaton is on trial for her life at Plymouth, Mass., charged with the murder of her second husband, the late Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, retired, who died at his home at Annapolis, Md., March 8 last of poisoning. This picture of the accused widow was taken at the opening of the trial. She wore mourning, but appeared cheerful and confident of acquittal. The courthouse at Plymouth is also shown.

EYE OFFENDED BY DIAPHANOUS GOWNS; GREEK PLUCKS IT OUT

Greensburg Man Obeys Scriptural Injunction Rather Than View Late Styles.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 18.—Because he feared the sight of fashionably garbed women in diaphanous gowns and silk skirts, barrooms and other wicked things of the lighted streets of Detroit might lead him to sin, John Linandrous, a young Greek of this place, obeyed the Bible injunction literally and destroyed the sight of his right eye.

Linandrous returned recently from Detroit, where he was given treatment, and appeared yesterday wearing a new glass eye to replace the one destroyed.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

For months Linandrous pored over the New Testament. He remarked frequently to his friends that he feared he was not living according to Christian standards. He neglected his restaurant business and refused suggestions from friends that his life be reformed with moral standards.

Linandrous passed sleepless nights and restless days. He was persuaded to go to Detroit for a change of scene. Linandrous made the trip, but even more earnestly read the Scriptures. In a moment of mental depression he read from Matthew: "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out," and he did.

He was sent to a hospital from which he was recently discharged.

FATHER GREAT PIPE.

Centric Will of the Famous Dutch Smoker, Van Klaes.

In "Holland of the Dutch" Demetrius Boulger tells the story of the famous Van Klaes of Rotterdam, who was known as "Father Great Pipe."

Van Klaes smoked about half a pound of tobacco a day and to save himself trouble used an enormous pipe, hence his nickname. He built a mansion in Rotterdam, with a fortune estimated at the time, and turned it into a museum for pipes and antique instruments used by primitive man for burning hemp or weeds long before the discovery of tobacco. No man who visited his curious went away without a gift of choice cigars. He lived to be ninety-eight and made, while smoking, an eccentric will, which began by bequeathing all his property to his pipe.

Each person who attended was to receive ten pounds of tobacco and two pipes bearing the name of the donor, his arms and the date of his death, but he imposed the condition that they should smoke without interruption during the funeral ceremony. Finally his coffin was to be lined with the wood of his old cigar boxes, and beside him were to be placed his favorite pipe, a supply of tobacco and a box of matches, for, as the will solemnly sets forth, no one knows what may happen.

WHISTLER'S ODD WAYS.

A Portrait That Was Slashed as Soon as It Was Painted.

Lord Rededesd once gave a description of Whistler's methods to a meeting in London in support of a memorial to the great artist. The eccentric painter was painting, he said, a portrait of a lady.

Whistler took up his position at one end of the room with his sifter and the canvas at the other end. For a long time he stood looking at his model, holding in his hand a huge brush full of color, such a brush as a man would use to whitewash a house. Then he rushed forward and slashed the brush full of color into the canvas. Then he ran back, and forty or fifty times he repeated this. At the end of that time there stood out on the canvas a space which exactly indicated the figure, the form and the expression of the sitter.

There was a pathetic story attached to the picture. The billings were in the house when the picture was finished. That was quite a common occurrence, and Whistler only laughed, but he went around his studio with a knife and deliberately destroyed all his canvases, including this picture, which was to have been his (Lord Rededesd's).—Dundee Advertiser.

Belated Remarks.

Dix—Doesn't your wife say anything when you go out evenings? Dix—Not much; she reserves the bulk of her remarks for me when I get home.—Boston Transcript.

Paw Knows Everything.

Willie—Paw, why do they say that all the world is a stage? Paw—Because those who can't get in the spotlight are critics, my son.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BAD STOMACH.

ONE DOSE OF

May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy Should Convince You That Your Suffering Is Unnecessary.

Recommended for Chronic Indigestion and Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Affections.

Scores of people, some right in your own locality, have taken May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy for Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Affections, Dyspepsia, Pressure of Gas Around the Heart, Sour Stomach, Distress After Eating, Nervousness, Disordered Digestion, Spasms, Sick Headaches, Constipation, Torpid Liver, etc., and are grateful to the remedy for the above ailments. Ask your druggist for a bottle today. Put it to a test—one dose should convince you. It is marvelous in its healing properties and its effects are quite natural as it acts on the source and foundation of stomach ailments and in most cases brings quick relief and permanent results. This highly successful remedy has been taken by the most prominent people, and those in all walks of life, among them Members of Congress, Judges of the Supreme Court, Educators, Lawyers, Merchants, Bankers, Doctors, Druggists, Nurses, Manufacturers, Preachers, Ministers, Farmers, with innumerable others, and it should be equally successful in your case. Send for free valuable booklet on Stomach Affections to Geo. H. May, May's Chemical, 171-173 Whiting Street, Chicago, Ill. For sale in Conneltsville by A. A. Clarke and Druggists everywhere.—Adv.

THE WORST OF IT.

Oh, don't be so lazy! Sure, the best way to find out what you can do is to try. Aye! But that's the worst way to find out what you can't do.

EMBARRASSED.

Jack embarrassed me terribly today. How so? He asked me how I enjoyed his speech at the banquet last night.

Oh, don't be so lazy! Sure, the best way to find out what you can do is to try. Aye! But that's the worst way to find out what you can't do.

EMBARRASSED.

Jack embarrassed me terribly today. How so? He asked me how I enjoyed his speech at the banquet last night.

Oh, don't be so lazy! Sure, the best way to find out what you can do is to try. Aye! But that's the worst way to find out what you can't do.

EMBARRASSED.

Jack embarrassed me terribly today. How so? He asked me how I enjoyed his speech at the banquet last night.

Oh, don't be so lazy! Sure, the best way to find out what you can do is to try. Aye! But that's the worst way to find out what you can't do.

EMBARRASSED.

Jack embarrassed me terribly today. How so? He asked me how I enjoyed his speech at the banquet last night.

Oh, don't be so lazy! Sure, the best way to find out what you can do is to try. Aye! But that's the worst way to find out what you can't do.

EMBARRASSED.

Jack embarrassed me terribly today. How so? He asked me how I enjoyed his speech at the banquet last night.

Oh, don't be so lazy! Sure, the best way to find out what you can do is to try. Aye! But that's the worst way to find out what you can't do.

EMBARRASSED.

Jack embarrassed me terribly today. How so? He asked me how I enjoyed his speech at the banquet last night.

Oh, don't be so lazy! Sure, the best way to find out what you can do is to try. Aye! But that's the worst way to find out what you can't do.

EMBARRASSED.

Jack embarrassed me terribly today. How so? He asked me how I enjoyed his speech at the banquet last night.

Oh, don't be so lazy! Sure, the best way to find out what you can do is to try. Aye! But that's the worst way to find out what you can't do.

EMBARRASSED.

Kirschbaum Clothes

ALL WOOL. ALL MADE IN AMERICA. ALL PRICES.

For Authoritative Style

THIS season the most authoritative styles come from London.

Coats hug the form more about the waist. Sleeves are snug. Lapels are soft-rolling. Vests are high. Trousers are spare and straight.

All of these style tendencies you'll find faithfully expressed in our Kirschbaum Clothes.

In no other clothes selling at like prices can you get garments that are all-wool, London-shrunk, hand-tailored and sewn with silk thread.

Come see them.

Kirschbaum Clothes

$15 $20 and $25

The Horner Co.

WOOLWORTH BUILDING, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

They're Coming Back

Our best advertisement is our host of satisfied customers. Our best evidence that "After All Footer's Is Best" is that our old customers are coming back. If you've something very fine that requires skill and care, send it here—likewise, your other work for satisfaction is not expensive. Why not get the habit of sending it to Footer's?

Our best advertisement is our host of satisfied customers. Our best evidence that "After All Footer's Is Best" is that our old customers are coming back. If you've something very fine that requires skill and care, send it here—likewise, your other work for satisfaction is not expensive. Why not get the habit of sending it to Footer's?

Our best advertisement is our host of satisfied customers. Our best evidence that "After All Footer's Is Best" is that our old customers are coming back. If you've something very fine that requires skill and care, send it here—likewise, your other work for satisfaction is not expensive. Why not get the habit of sending it to Footer's?

Our best advertisement is our host of satisfied customers. Our best evidence that "After All Footer's Is Best" is that our old customers are coming back. If you've something very fine that requires skill and care, send it here—likewise, your other work for satisfaction is not expensive. Why not get the habit of sending it to Footer's?

Our best advertisement is our host of satisfied customers. Our best evidence that "After All Footer's Is Best" is that our old customers are coming back. If you've something very fine that requires skill and care, send it here—likewise, your other work for satisfaction is not expensive. Why not get the habit of sending it to Footer's?

Our best advertisement is our host of satisfied customers. Our best evidence that "After All Footer's Is Best" is that our old customers are coming back. If you've something very fine that requires skill and care, send it here—likewise, your other work for satisfaction is not expensive. Why not get the habit of sending it to Footer's?

Our best advertisement is our host of satisfied customers. Our best evidence that "After All Footer's Is Best" is that our old customers are coming back. If you've something very fine that requires skill and care, send it here—likewise, your other work for satisfaction is not expensive. Why not get the habit of sending it to Footer's?

Our best advertisement is our host of satisfied customers. Our best evidence that "After All Footer's Is Best" is that our old customers are coming back. If you've something very fine that requires skill and care, send it here—likewise, your other work for satisfaction is not expensive. Why not get the habit of sending it to Footer's?

The News of Nearby Towns.

MEYERSDALE.

MEYERSDALE, Oct. 18.—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the local fire department rendered a banquet to the fire ladders of the fire department building last evening. An excellent luncheon was served and a general good time was had. The event was thoroughly appreciated by all who attended.

James W. Deek, one of the poor directors of Somerset county, who attended the sessions of the annual convention of the Poor Directors of Pennsylvania, held at Philadelphia, returned home today.

Oliver Murray of Sandpatch, was calling on friends here yesterday. Zach Iscoe of Meigs was a business visitor yesterday afternoon.

H. E. Devore, who is interested in a moving picture enterprise at Garrett, was transacting business here last evening.

W. C. Cochran, who until recently was the mine foreman at the Whites Creek mines, near Beuchley, left yesterday for Arizona where he has secured a lucrative position with a mining company.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Burk, of Cumberland, were in town yesterday calling on friends.

John W. Ludlow of Huntington, was a business visitor yesterday and today.

Urban McKenna and T. W. Hafferty of Avon, Md., were guests of friends here yesterday.

W. L. Wagoner of Hagerstown, is here to spend a few days with friends and acquaintances.

D. K. Clapper, who returned recently from an evangelistic tour of Bedford county, will preach in the Church of the Brethren at 10:30 tomorrow morning. At 7:30 P. M. D. W. Long of Garrett, will preach.

Mrs. Mary J. Graves has accepted a position as superintendent of the boarding house of H. S. Kerbaugh at Magnolia, W. Va., and will shortly enter upon her new duties.

The work of paving Main street has been temporarily delayed on account of being unable to secure brick.

John W. Bailey has gone to Mrs. Roberts, Ky., to take charge of the general store of the Consolidated Coal Company. He is succeeded as assistant manager of the Dull Mercantile Company at this place by R. J. Dickey.

MEYERSDALE, Oct. 17.—Perry Miller, Howard Miller, Harvey Wahl, Chris Wahl, Charles Miller, George Miller and C. M. Clingerman are among the number from this section who are attending the Hagerstown fair.

W. C. Shultz and E. R. Bird of Somerset, were business visitors here yesterday.

Dr. D. D. Kurtz of Johnstown, spent yesterday and today in town on professional business.

E. P. Hinchman, W. D. Claycomb and E. B. Smith were among the number from Johnstown who were transacting business matters here last evening.

Mrs. Fred Warner of Pined, Md., was the guest of relatives and friends at this place yesterday and today.

H. L. Hay, of Berlin, president of Berlin, was among the out of town visitors to this place last evening.

A. C. Sanner and J. J. Smith of Rockwood, two officials of the Baltimore & Ohio on the local division, were looking after company business here today.

W. H. Ward of Cumberland, Md., was the guest of friends here yesterday.

John E. Nichol of the county seat, spent yesterday with friends in Meyersdale and vicinity.

John D. Locke, a prominent Rockwood merchant, spent last evening with friends and acquaintances here.

Mrs. William Attmiller of Pittsburgh, arrived here yesterday, having been summoned to attend the funeral of her son, who has been staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Attmiller.

P. J. Moreland of Confluence, was a Meyersdale visitor last night.

John Phillips of Meigs, W. Va., who is employed on the railroad construction work there, spent yesterday and last evening visiting with friends here.

Former Sheriff Edgar Kyle, who has been an invalid for nearly a year, and who is now suffering from dropsy, is growing weaker day by day. His granddaughter, who has made her home with the Kyle family, is very ill of typhoid fever.

Miss Edith Ford of Pittsburgh, is the guest of her mother and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Klumppert.

Mrs. James Matney of Oakland, Pa., is the guest of her friends, Rev. and Mrs. Albert S. Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Black and children left on Thursday for the latter days of the Hagerstown fair.

PENNSVILLE.

PENNSVILLE, Oct. 18.—Foster McManis, wife and two daughters, of South Bend, Ind., spent a few days this week visiting Mrs. Hannah Wright.

Mrs. J. W. McEldown and Mrs. Ida Long visited friends at Yorkwood Wednesday.

Mrs. Bertha E. Cunningham of Somerset, is spending a few days this week visiting at the home of her brother, W. E. Mier.

Mrs. Kate Sherrett of West Side, Connelville, was in Pennsville yesterday at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Youngkin, Thursday.

Mrs. Joseph D. Baker spent Thursday evening in Pennsville.

Mrs. Leonard Hyatt and two children of Connelville, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Hubbard, this week.

Church services will be held in the Pennsville United Evangelical church on Sunday. Preaching services will be held at 10:30 A. M. and Sunday school at 2 P. M.

Card of Thanks.
John Fortfield, Mrs. J. H. Kuhn and Mrs. George Angel desire to thank their kind friends and neighbors who assisted them during the illness and death of their beloved mother, Mrs. Sarah Fortfield, and especially to thank the choir for its assistance. Adv.

CONFLUENCE.

CONFLUENCE, Oct. 18.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church held a special luncheon meeting in the church Wednesday evening. Arrangements were made to give a reception for the new minister and his family. Reverend LePage, wife and three children to be given in the church Friday evening, October 24. All members of the Methodist Episcopal Church are invited to come and bid the new minister and family a welcome. The Ladies' Aid Society also is making arrangements to hold a chicken and biscuit supper in the Frank Davis building Friday evening.

Miss Mayne Cleveland, who has been spending several weeks with friends in Pittsburgh, has returned home.

Hagan Yeagley of Connelville, spent several days this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yeagley.

Mrs. Fannie Moon went to Rockwood this week where she will visit her daughter Mrs. Irene Wolf for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wagner and son, Mrs. Louise Wagner and daughter, Mrs. M. and Mrs. Fred Yeagley, Mrs. Fannie Moon went to Rockwood this week where she will visit her daughter Mrs. Irene Wolf for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burnworth are the proud parents of a fine baby boy. The child also visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Clark and left them a baby boy.

Mrs. Nelson Scarborough of Bradock is the guest of her father, George LePage, also her sister Mrs. Herbert Day this week.

Mrs. Annabelle Burnworth and granddaughter Nona Burnworth have returned home after a week's visit with her daughter Mrs. James Wilson.

Miss Louise Lincoln of Uniontown, is the guest of Misses Gertrude Shaw and other relatives here.

Mrs. Laura Bloomfield of Elkins, W. Va., and Miss Ella Mitchell of Gladys, W. Va., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Shaw was in Connelville shopping one day this week.

Charles Hinchman, a business trip to Connelville this week.

Mrs. S. A. Abbott and Miss Case of Uniontown were in town yesterday.

Miss Jewel Butler of Sellersport, Md., was the guest of friends in town yesterday. She was on her return home from a two weeks' visit with relatives in West Virginia near Elkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDonald and son Raymond, were called to Friendsville this week by the sudden death of their son.

CONFERENCE, Oct. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Elcher of Fort Hill, were calling on friends in town yesterday.

Misses Currie and Mayne Forquer, Anna Kurtz, Edna Kuhlman of Uniontown, were in town shopping yesterday.

Mrs. Treasurer of Fort Hill, was the guest of Miss Mary Williams of Uniontown on Thursday.

Home Dole made a business trip to Connelville yesterday.

Ray and Mrs. C. W. Hoover and son, Leonard, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weaver Wednesday and Thursday. They left Thursday morning for their new home in Connelville, where Raymond Hoover was recently appointed minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Cranton Plamen of White Rock, is spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. Carl Youngkin.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beggs, Mrs. H. and Mrs. Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Pratts, Hiram Pratts and Thomas Kight motored to see the unveiling of Bradock's monument along the National Pike, near Uniontown on Wednesday.

Mrs. E. B. Black was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kurtz in Connelville the first part of the week.

Leonard Hoover was given a farewell reception by members of Class 9 of the Methodist Episcopal Church, School of which he was a member, at the home of the teacher, Mrs. George McDonald. At 10:30 o'clock refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCarty, who have been guests of friends in town for the past week, left yesterday for Addison, where they will spend several weeks with friends.

Mrs. William Linger of Listonburg, was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Herbert Bird on Tuesday and Wednesday.

BROAD FORD.

BROAD FORD, Oct. 18.—The stock paid a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Enos and left a boy.

Miss Francis Riley was shopping in Connelville today.

Mrs. John Carlson is a Connelville visitor today.

John Jones is a Connelville business visitor.

Mrs. Orbin spent a few days with her daughter at Leekens.

George Strickler is a Connelville visitor.

John Hearty, Andy Capecheck and George Murray attended the ball game at Steelville Thursday.

May Morrison is visiting friends in Dawson.

Miss Ina Menefee of Dawson, was a visitor yesterday.

John Traver was a Connelville business visitor yesterday.

Charles Sticker of Perryopolis, is visiting friends here.

STAR JUNCTION.

STAR JUNCTION, Oct. 17.—Mrs. J. Newmyer and grandson were calling in Connelville yesterday.

ROCKWOOD.

ROCKWOOD, Oct. 17.—The Excelsior Brick Company have completed the erection of a Ross kiln, equipped with the latest system of burning brick. It is supposed to burn the brick much quicker and better than the methods heretofore used. The company have a representative on the ground instructing the employees in the operation of the machinery.

Mrs. C. H. Miller of Rockwood, and daughter, Mrs. Frank Maxwell of Connelville, are the guest this week of friends and relatives in Butler.

D. H. Miller of Rockwood, is the guest of his brothers, Clarence and Charles C. Miller and their families at Johnstown.

The stark visited the home of Engineer and Mrs. Charles Schult of Broadway, and to the joy of the parents a baby boy was born.

Four of the family of Mr. and Mrs. John Youngkin of Rockwood, are all with typical fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eliek of Rockwood, are guests this week of friends and relatives in Johnstown.

12 J. Wetmore, George Holzmair and John Strasser of Rockwood attended the annual meeting of the master brewers which was held in Pittsburgh.

W. A. Hoover has about completed an improvement to his main street residence by adding a large addition to the rear.

Doctor Zim's lecture in the United Brethren church on Thursday evening was well attended and was enjoyed by all present. It was entertaining and instructive. The subject was "Through Confederate Prisons and Home Again."

ROCKWOOD, Oct. 16.—Charles Foster of Merrill, Kansas, is the guest of his many friends and relatives in Rockwood and vicinity. Mr. Foster has been away from his native town for 21 years but still there are a few old ones that are familiar.

Blacksmith R. M. Hay of Rockwood will move his family and household goods to Uniontown where he has been employed as a blacksmith for the Consolidation Coal Company.

Mrs. Charles Critchfield of Jemmers is the guest this week of her daughter Mrs. E. B. Miller and Clarence Critchfield of Rockwood.

Baltimore & Ohio Operator H. Bartholomew and family has returned home after an extended visit of several weeks with relatives at Lansdale, Pa.

Operator Evans of Uniontown occupied Mr. Bartholomew's position at the B&O tower during his absence.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holby of Millford township, who were recently married, will move to Connelville where Mr. Holby has secured a position as conductor for the West Penn.

Archibald H. P. Miller of the Rockwood Hardware Company, spent the first part of this week attending the National Farmers Show in Pittsburgh.

Emmett Robinson, son of George Robinson, enrolled on Wednesday as a student of the Faculty of Conservatory of Music at Baltimore, Md. He was accompanied to the city by his uncle J. H. Strong.

J. W. Trimpey has moved his family from the German Hay property on Market street to the E. B. Hall property on Leona avenue. Since Mr. Trimpey has moved his family from the E. B. Critchfield property on West Broadway to the Mary E. Tappan property on East Broadway.

OHIOVILLE.

OHIOVILLE, Oct. 18.—Mrs. John Waters was a Connelville caller and shopper yesterday.

Charles Yeagley of Confluence, was a business caller here Friday.

Miss Della Corbitt left Friday morning for Connelville to spend a few days the guest of friends.

Oran Waters was a caller in Connelville yesterday.

Harry Dean was a Connelville business caller yesterday.

Miss Anna Harbaugh, teacher at Green Hill, is spending Saturday and Sunday at her home in Connelville.

John Dillman left yesterday for Somerset, after several days spent with Ohioville friends.

David Dillman is spending a few days at his home here.

Hinger Shaw is spending several days looking after business matters in Somerset.

George Jackson was a Connelville caller yesterday.

Walter Chuck of Uniontown, is spending a few days at his home on Church street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith and daughter, Mildred, were Connelville callers Friday.

Hugh Corbitt was a business caller in Uniontown Friday.

Mrs. Ida Kohn and sister, Miss Lillian Mitchell, spent Friday among friends in Rockwood.

Mrs. Mark Hall of Connelville, was a caller here yesterday.

Mrs. Milton Daniels and daughter of Maple Summit, were shopping in town yesterday.

OHIOVILLE, Oct. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Orndorff and children of Connelville arrived here yesterday to make a short visit with friends.

Mrs. Anna Collins spent Thursday in Connelville shopping and calling on friends.

William Welch was a Confluence business visitor Thursday.

Charles Gaudreau was a Confluence caller yesterday.

L. A. Jackson was a business caller in Uniontown yesterday.

$3.50 Rapid Vacuum Washer 98c

The Daily Courier

Is going to show its usual public spirit by giving to its readers the most wonderful, labor saving, money saving, time saving and fuel saving device ever offered to the public.

A BENEFACTOR TO THE WOMEN
Coupon On Page 2.

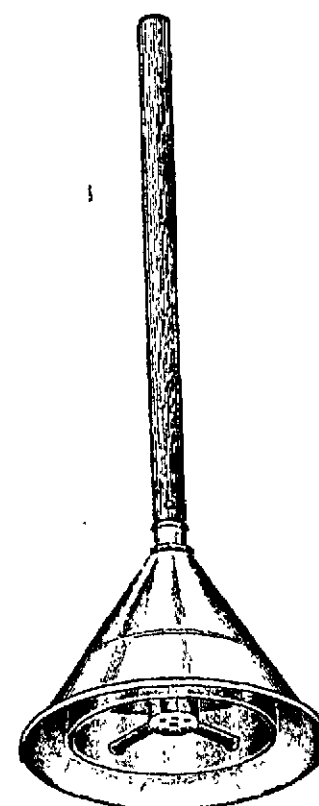

Compressed Air Does the Work

AN EASY WASH DAY—NO BOILING—NO RUBBING.

No longer do you have to spend hours over the wash tub, no boiling, therefore no odors, it simply does away with drudgery. The Rapid Vacuum Washer is the most wonderful device ever offered the housewife, because it does away with the hardest work a woman is called to do and makes washing as easy as any other household work.

Start Cutting Your Coupons Today.

Do not let another wash day go by without having one of these vacuum washers in your home. The Courier has made it extremely easy for every woman to get one of these washers. All you have to do is to clip six coupons from The Daily Courier and present them at this office with 98 cents and receive a vacuum washer that will be worth to you many times the price you paid for it.

Every Vacuum Washer Absolutely Guaranteed.

SIX COUPONS AND 98 CENTS FOR THIS RAPID VACUUM CLOTHES WASHER

Sent by Parcels Post for 8 Cents Additional

It Pays to be a Reader of The Daily Courier

Making Money

INDIAN CREEK.

INDIAN CREEK, Oct. 17.—S. P. Switzer was at Normalville last night taking the initiation in the Odd Fellows Lodge.

James McLain of Jones Mill, is a Connelville and Steelville business caller today.

Baltimore & Ohio Engineer, Michael is along the line today between Connelville and Confluence, chasing wire trouble.

Mrs. James Galt and daughter left for their home in Leekens this morning.

Miss Myrtle Walls of near Killbuck Park is a Connelville caller today.

Mrs. Link Davis and son are calling on Connelville friends today.

A big bunch of game came out of the valley last evening. All hunters are well pleased with their bag and report game plentiful.

George V. Hower of Mount Bradock, is here today looking after the interest of the W. J. Bailey stone quarry and dredging mine.

Mrs. Frank Vitrulich of Pennsylvania, is spending a few days among Mill Run friends.

The Indian Creek Valley railroad will run a Sunday train next Sunday, October 19 for the benefit of the love

DICKERSON RUN.

DICKERSON RUN, Oct. 17.—Miss Marie Hearty was calling on friends in Connelville Thursday.

E. L. Means of Elm Grove, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Means last evening.

Thomas Boundly of Connelville, was calling on Dawson friends Thursday evening.

Harry McCleary was transacting business at Connelville yesterday afternoon.

L. B. Byers of Dunbar township, was attending to some business matters at Dunbar Thursday morning.

W. E. Kelly and son, Snyder, of Vanderhill, were transacting business at Connelville yesterday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson have returned to their home at Louisville, Ky., after a several days' visit with relatives and friends here and at Dunbar.

Miss Beatie Riser of Dunbar, is spending a few days here visiting with friends.

Notice.
Dunbar Township Taxpayers: It has been pointed out in the several districts that I am no longer a candidate on account of having lost the nomination on the Washington ticket owing to a vote being cast each candidate receiving one vote. I therefore take the pleasure to state that having received the nomination on the Democratic any Republican tickets that my hat is still in the ring and your vote and influence will be appreciated at the general election Tuesday, November 1, 1913. John E. Senner—Adv.

Card of Thanks.
M. H. Butler and family desire to thank their many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy extended them in their recent bereavement in the death of their beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Magdalen Butler, and especially to thank those sending floral tributes—Adv.

The man who is making money is pretty busy and has little time for reading. He surely has not the time to read all of the statistical reports contained in leading business and financial publications. Realizing this we have all basic information of a dependable nature boiled down by trained statisticians and the result is published in the form of a monthly Report of Trade.

These brief reports contain much valuable information for the heavy business man. We would like you to have them and will place your name on the list to receive the Report each month, if you so desire.

First National Bank, Connellsville, Pennsylvania.

CAN YOU DOUBT IT?

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of this locality testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of this vicinity says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony?

Mrs. D. L. Coffman, 44 W. Craig St., Uniontown, Pa., says: "One of the family was troubled by a lame back and other symptoms of disordered kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended that their use was begun and it was not long before they had removed the lameness and soreness and corrected the other kidney disorder. Doan's Kidney Pills live up to representation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Advertisement.

If You Have a Printing Want

WE WANT TO KNOW WHAT IT IS

Putting out good printing is our business, and when we say good printing we don't mean fair, but the best obtainable. If you are "from Missouri" give us a trial and we will

Show You

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
THE DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS Indicated Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Kidney Pills in this and hold them before you. They will cure you.
Take one. Buy of your Druggist or send for a trial box.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

MRS. WORRY—It's Merely a Change of View, John

PRICE OF COKE FOR 1914 NEXT CONSIDERATION

Most Operating Furnaces Contracted for Balance of the Year.

$2.50 COKE IS THE MINIMUM

Buy Producers Group of Merchants in Reply to Suggestion of Lower Rates for 1914 Contracts; Prompt Coke is Very Quiet; Coal Strong and Active.

From The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—The coke market has been decidedly quiet the past week, as it is strictly between seasons for coke, and indeed the whole iron market itself has been extremely quiet, furnishing no incentive to activity in coke.

The great majority of furnaces now in operation are contracted for coke through the year, while the few that have been buying from month to month covered their October requirements some time ago and are showing no interest in November coke. As production is ample for the present, consumptive requirements full shipments are being made on all contracts and consumers are not forced into the spot market for small extra lots. This makes the spot market as quiet as the contract market.

There are no present prospects of additional furnaces going into blast in the near future, so that there is no probability of increased demand from such a source, and as the uncovered November and December requirements are relatively small the next action of importance in the coke market will be with respect to contracts for the new year, and already the price situation as to such contracts is being canvassed, though without there being any important feature out. Contracts involving the bulk of the merchant coke now moving will expire December 31. While there are contracts which run over that date they are in the minority.

The fact that so little business remains to be done for this year, and so much will have to be done for next year, strengthens the attitude of the majority operators, who are holding to the $2.50 quotation. Naturally there is no incentive to them to cut the $2.50 price for nearby deliveries, since other operators have so freely cut the price and still have not sold all the tonnage they offer on the other hand. It is plain that the contracts which must be closed for delivery after December 31 will establish the cut-price coke and a great deal more. For weeks there have been rumors that the $2.50 operators are holding the $2.50 price only temporarily, and will take up the price question afresh before 1914 contracting becomes active, but all such reports are denied by the operators involved, it being said: "In substance that their views as to $2.50 coke are permanent. The market remains quiet as follows:

Prompt furnace ..... $2.15 to $2.25
Contract furnace ..... $2.25 to $2.50
Prompt foundry ..... $2.25 to $2.50
Contract foundry ..... $2.25 to $2.50

The local coal market has considerably strengthened in the past fortnight. Operators insist they have no difficulty in supplying from 10 to 20 cents a ton above the regular circular prices of the season for such free coal as they can spare either for prompt shipment or for shipment in the next few months. In some quarters such statements are questioned, it being asserted that if there is any scarcity of coal it is because production is below capacity. Regular asking prices are now on the basis of $1.10 to $1.15 for mine-run, at Pittsburgh district mines. Slack is scarce, and usually commands $1.10 to $1.15.

The local pig iron market continues altogether unchanged. Messmer and basic iron business is being done to test the market. In country from the United States put out has developed the fact that $11. Valley can again be shaded by at least 15 cents. The market stands quiet as follows: Messmer, $15.75, basic, $14.75, No. 2 foundry, $13.50, gray, $14. No. 2 foundry, $13.50, gray, $14. Valley furnace, 20 cents higher delivered Pittsburgh.

To Extend Free Delivery.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A bill was introduced in the House today by Representative Warren Worth Bailey of Johnston, providing for the extension of free mail delivery to every town in the United States having a population of more than 1,000. An appropriation of $10,000,000 is contained in the bill to cover the additional expense. Over 6,000 towns will benefit.

Here's One of the Real Heroes of the Volturno Disaster, Lloyd, the Daring Second Officer

In the catalogue of the real heroes of the Volturno disaster the name of Edward Lloyd, second officer of the Volturno, is written with that of Captain Hoch. Here is what this tall, quiet, calm, modest, young Englishman did on Thursday night when it seemed that another explosion would break the ship's back. Lloyd, with a volunteer crew of four, fought his way through the storm to the treasure chest first, and then to the lifeboats. He never expected to live through the night. But his captain asked him to make the attempt. He saluted and went over the side. Within a few hours the brave sailors of the Kurfirst had matched Lloyd's daring, had conquered the sea and had taken off 32 men. Lloyd was burned and hurt by falling 20 feet while trying to repair the wireless. This picture was taken aboard the Kurfirst on the way to New York. Lloyd was provided with civilian clothes. He is Third Officer Edward Lloyd of the Volturno, in uniform, who also played a heroic part.

SERVICES AT THE CHURCHES.

Church notices must reach this office by 9 A. M. Saturday; those received later cannot be printed. No notices will be received by telephone.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH. Divine services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Ellis H. Burgess at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. An appointment of the Pittsburgh Synod, Rev. M. H. Hunsicker, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, Pittsburgh, will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening. Confirmation class will be held at 9 o'clock and Bible School at 10 o'clock. Strangers are always welcome.

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. J. L. Froudt, pastor. Services in the Colonial Theatre. Morning service at 11; sermon by Rev. A. L. Wiley. Evening service at 7:30; subject, "Kadesh-Barnea," sermon by the pastor. Christian Endeavor, 6:30. Wednesday evening prayer meeting in the Y. M. C. A. at 7:45. A cordial welcome to our services.

TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH. South Pittsburgh and Green Streets. Rev. C. E. Wagner, pastor. Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. Preaching at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Morning sermon by Rev. Daniel Burghalter, D. D., of Tiffin, O., who is field secretary of our foreign mission board and is one of the speakers in the United Mission campaign, being presented to the Connellsville churches Sunday and Monday. We invite you to hear him. Evening sermon by the pastor. Subject, "A Lesson on Congenious." Services Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:30, preparatory to Holy Communion to be held Sunday, October 20.

GERMAN LUTHERAN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH. On Carnegie Avenue and East Sixth Street, George Dietz, pastor. Services at 10:30 A. M. Subject of sermon taken from Ephesians VI, 10-11: "Good Advice for the Days of Adversity." Sunday School at 9 o'clock. Ladies' Aid Society will meet at 11:30 A. M. In the afternoon Rev. Dietz will hold German services at 8:00 P. M. in the English Lutheran St. Paul's Church on Gallatin Avenue. Confirmation class on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. At large cordially invited.

FIRST CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY. Room 8, second floor, Postoffice Title & Trust Building, Uniontown. Sunday School at 10 A. M. Morning service at 11 o'clock. Wednesday evening meeting at 8 o'clock. Sermon subject, "Doctrine of Atonement."

M. E. CHURCH. Rev. R. C. Wolf, pastor. Services at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Preaching in the evening by Dr. A. L. Wiley of India. Sabbath School at 9:45 A. M. Epworth League at 6:30 P. M. Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30. Junior League, Friday, from 4 to 5 o'clock.

M. E. CHURCH. Rev. E. Cairns, pastor. Sabbath School at 10 A. M. Morning service at 11 A. M. At this service our people will have the unusual opportunity of hearing a missionary sermon by Dr. S. J. Corey, returned missionary from Africa, C. E. Society at 6:45. Leader, J. C. Fair. Evening services at 7:30. Sermon by the pastor.

UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH. Rev. C. W. Whiny, pastor. Morning service at 11 o'clock. Theme, "The Training for Service." Evening service at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Daniel Burghalter of Tiffin, Ohio, will speak. Junior Christian Endeavor at 2:30. Young People's Christian Endeavor at 6:30 P. M.

COCHRAN MEMORIAL CHURCH. Dawson, Rev. H. A. Baum, pastor. Rev. W. P. Conner, superintendent of Pittsburgh district, Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will preach in the morning to Bishop Simpson. A number of prominent characters of early Methodism and her distinctive phases will be presented at the evening service. Epworth League devotional services at 6:45. Special programs will be used this winter.

pastor. Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. Public worship at 11 A. M. Sermon by the pastor, "Kadesh-Barnea." Young People's meeting at 6:45 P. M. to be led by the pastor when the newly elected officers of the Y. P. U. will be installed. Evening worship at 7:30 P. M. Dr. Y. Minatuchi of Japan will speak. Special evangelistic meetings will begin in this church Tuesday, October 21, and continue until Sunday, November 2, a meeting every night except Saturday, at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. Francis L. Church of New Brighton will preach.

THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. South Pittsburgh Street and Morton Avenue, Rev. William J. Everhart, pastor. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. Sabbath School at 9:45 A. M. Junior and Intermediate Societies at 2 o'clock. Senior Y. P. U. at 6:15 P. M. People, "The Best Year in Our Work for the Master." Leader, A. H. Long. Evening worship at 7:45. Sermon, "Who Shall Deliver." This is the last service of a special meetings. Let us make it the best. You are welcome. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:45. People, "Messengers of Revival." Leader, Rev. W. J. Everhart.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH. J. P. Allison, pastor, residence 509 Race Street. Telephone 374. Bible School at 9:30; contest with Rev. P. H. H. short talk by Japanese missionary at close of the school. 10:40 theme for the morning discourse, "Conserving the Lives of Our Children." 7:30 address by Stephen J. Cory of Cincinnati, Ohio. 2:30 Sunday afternoon mass meeting in the First Baptist Church. Monday afternoon a union meeting in the Christian Church.

Unclaimed Letters.

Letters advertised at the Connellsville postoffice October 8:

Anderson Earl, Harley E. P. Ivey Miss
Burns W. Georgia
Bontly Rex, Johnson Miss M.
Burns K. Kellough Miss
Burns Geo. J. Anna
Buck Henry, Lyons Yoba
Brooks I. S. Maud
Gallagher Patricia, McClintock Mrs.
Crosen, Ivan, Nellie
Conner Mrs. McCormick Coy George, Miller Horatio
Carter Wm. Monteth J. G.
Climmons Mrs. Moran Miss
Arthur, Anna
Crispin Miss, Mills David
Elliott Mrs. J. E. Merrill John
Elliott Mrs. J. E. Merrill John
Farr, Joe, Phillips Pete
Frisbie Mrs. Rittmeyer Miss S.
Gedalka Mike, Rudolph Joe
Guthrie Mrs. Robinson H. G.
Hau, Sorenze Shippe Haugenheim G. Sumner Mary
Gillmore Milton, Shotton Edgar Goswick Miss, Thomas W. F.
Hessle, Carrie Miss
Graham S. M. Maude
Gardner W. J. Wilson J. H.
Hawkins C. B. Williams J.
Haysman John, Lanyon
Hickman Dan, Watson Herbert G.
Hanks A. W. Sullivan
Harvey J. J. Sullivan
Huston Harry, Brewery
Hunt Miss, West Penn Coke
Mary, Company

MOVING AND GENERAL HAULING

Special attention to moving pianos. See

J. N. TRUMP,
Office 101 E. Peach Street.
Both Phones.

Ability,
Responsibility,
Experience

Three important qualities which the Executor of an estate have. They are assured by appointing the Title & Trust Company of Western Pennsylvania as your Executor.

Title & Trust Company

of Western Penn'a.
Connellsville, Pa.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.
Capital and Surplus
$425,000.00.

FOREIGN.
Nicola Fardano, Knapka
Antonio, Mostakhan
Rafaelo Juliano, John Rukowsky
Pedrej Mucha, Joseph Jurkovic

NIGHTGOWN OF BEAUTIFUL DESIGN.

The present rage for richness and elaboration has extended even to the lingerie which displays such exquisite faces and filmy materials as to well-nigh drive distracted the woman with slender pulse. However, this may be copied in less expensive materials and still be beautiful. The design shown here might be copied for a trousseau. This nightgown was in empire style, the effective points of lace being combined with fine tucks and wide banding run with satin ribbon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Sunday Service 11 a. m. Sunday School 10 a. m. Wednesday Evening Meeting 8 o'clock. Reading Room open Monday 8 to 9:30 p. m. also Wednesdays and Saturdays from 3 to 5 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited.

FIRST CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY OF UNIONTOWN, PA.
Room 8, 2nd floor, Fayette Title and Trust Bldg.

MONEY IN WHEAT

$1000 buys Puts on calls on 10,000 bushels of wheat. No further risk. A movement of 5c from price gives you chance to take $500.00; 4c $400.00; 3c $300.00, etc. Write for particulars, THE CINCINNATI STOCK & GRAIN CO., Park Bldg., Cleveland, O.

WEAR Horner's Clothing

J. B. KURTZ,
NOTARY PUBLIC
AND REAL ESTATE.
No. 3 South Meadow Lane.
Connellsville, Pa.

MOVING AND GENERAL HAULING

Special attention to moving pianos. See

J. N. TRUMP,
Office 101 E. Peach Street.
Both Phones.

Ability,
Responsibility,
Experience

Three important qualities which the Executor of an estate have. They are assured by appointing the Title & Trust Company of Western Pennsylvania as your Executor.

Title & Trust Company

of Western Penn'a.
Connellsville, Pa.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.
Capital and Surplus
$425,000.00.

FOREIGN.
Nicola Fardano, Knapka
Antonio, Mostakhan
Rafaelo Juliano, John Rukowsky
Pedrej Mucha, Joseph Jurkovic

Do It Now!

Yesterday is gone forever—tomorrow may never come to you —
TODAY is the only day on which you may have your WILL drawn with absolute certainty. Costs you nothing to have it written, nor to have it stored safely, if the Yough Trust Company is appointed your Executor, to act either jointly or singly—
Our equipment, experience and financial strength insures intelligent and economical administration of any trust committed to us—
A handsomely illustrated booklet tells about the complete service we offer you in all monetary transactions. Call or write for it.

YOUGH TRUST COMPANY,

"Where Helpful Service is Assured." Capital $200,000. Resources $1,080,000.
Connellsville, Pa.

MONEY AT LOW RATES

We are making loans of $10 or more at the new rates, and they are so low, that no one need be without money.
We ask for no endorser, nor do we require references. If you own Household Goods or any other personal property, it is all the security you need to get a loan from us.
All transactions strictly confidential; goods left in possession of the owner.
It will pay you to borrow from us. We make loans anywhere within 15 miles of Connellsville.

UNION LOAN CO.

Second Floor, Title & Trust Building,
Cor. Main and Pittsburgh Sts., Connellsville, Pa.
Bell Phone 538. Tri-State 153.
Open Daily, 8 A. M. to 6 P. M. Monday and Saturday until 9 P. M.

Efficient Service and Courteous Treatment

Has enabled us, within the past year, to double the number of our customers. Quite a number of persons and societies, with surplus funds, who do not want to tie up their money subject to the rules of a regular 4% account, are taking advantage of our special 3% account. If you are a customer at this bank you will always find us willing to extend any reasonable accommodation on satisfactory security.

Our Customers Always Receive the Preference.
If you have a little ready money it will pay you to open an account with us, become acquainted, and take advantage of our service.

The Colonial National Bank

of Connellsville, Pa. Main and Pittsburgh Sts.
1 1/2% interest paid on Certificate and Time Deposits. Foreign Department equipped to give the best of service.

FRUGALITY

in financial matters is an important step on the way to prosperity. An account with the Union National Bank stimulates saving. Start one today. 4% Interest Paid on Savings Accounts.

UNION NATIONAL BANK,

West Side, Connellsville, Pa.

JOB PRINTING OF ALL KINDS DONE AT THE COURIER OFFICE.

The Red Button

BY Will Irwin

AUTHOR OF THE CITY THAT WAS, ETC.

ILLUSTRATED BY Harry R. Grissinger

COPYRIGHT 1913 BY BOBBY-MERRILL CO.

"If I only had some work!" she said to herself, and sighed again. She was sitting on the stairs, looking down at the door. The door was open; the lights were on; the baby-grand piano stood open, leaning.

"Only merry times, though," she warned herself as she sat down. And she started the record. As she knew, presently she began to sing in her pleasant untrained voice, which wobbled melodiously whenever she got out of the middle register. But music was a slave of mood. And before she was aware, her voice was following the strings in old and melancholy love songs.

Then Betsy-Barbara dropped her hands from the keys, and the music stopped abruptly. She was just aware that a fine scolding tutor had been humming the part from the doorway. Betsy-Barbara looked down at her hands.

"My master has gone to sleep," he said. And then, "That is a Scotch song, is it not? Please go on." Betsy-Barbara smiled, nodded, resumed her song; and they sang together.

When the song was finished, Estrella leaned on the piano and looked down at Betsy-Barbara. His mood seemed to have changed; it was his whim to talk.

"They are a little odd on the surface, those Scotch love-songs," he said. "Now warm beneath, like a volcano. Now we who speak Spanish—we can throw our emotions to the surface."

"Don't you think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that to conceal it—but show it to the world is the more wonderful way after all?"

The blood of the MacGregors in Betsy-Barbara was calling her to the defense of her own.

"Do you happen to know any of our Spanish songs?" pursued Estrella.

"Only Juanita, I think—and La Paloma."

Estrella looked at Betsy-Barbara as though he might have laughed but for Spanish politeness.

"These are Spanish for outside consumption, as when the English call your sheep—all cloth is it not—American cloth. Let me sing to you, but a Spanish song does not go well with the piano."

"There's a guitar over in the alcove," announced Betsy-Barbara. "Far-seeing maid!" exclaimed Estrella with such a delicious Spanish roll on the vowels that Betsy-Barbara laughed a little; and he, as though understanding, laughed with her.

So he tuned the guitar, Betsy-Barbara handing the key for him on the piano. And while he tweaked the strings, he made comment on them, too.

"This—you hear—is the angel-string. It is for celestial harmonies. One cannot go wrong on this string; but it is too fine and high to make all our music. This is the maul-string. You can go very right or very wrong on this one."

"Then one," he pronounced it, "and he drew out the vowels as though he were thinking, 'This is the woman-string. Listen—how discordant now! I tune it to the man-string, for I am God of this little world—and now how beautiful!'"

"You are talking poetry!" said Betsy-Barbara; and thought of the phrase as somewhat awkward.

"Ah, but I am inspired!" replied Estrella.

"(He surely doesn't mean me," thought Betsy-Barbara; "he would be too delicate.") However, he was looking not at her but at the guitar. He strummed little shimmering chords as he spoke. He fell to silence, but still the languorous music quivered from the guitar. Betsy-Barbara turned about on the piano stool, her hands folded lightly in her lap, her eyes cast down.

It was many years before Betsy-Barbara, looking back over everything, could analyze the feeling of that moment, could put it in its true relation to herself and her life. At the time, she knew only that she sat there impassive, embarrassed, but inert, that she felt shame yet also a furtive pleasure at the steady look of those earnest eyes. It lasted only a moment.

The outer door slammed violently. Betsy-Barbara started, as though caught in something guilty. She hesitated a moment for fear of showing her feelings to Estrella. Then she walked out into the hall. There was no one in sight. That seemed curious, since the hall stairs were not carpeted, and one could hear footsteps. It was as though some one had opened the front door and then quickly closed it again without entering. When she turned back, puzzled, she felt the necessity for explanation.

"I thought it might be Miss Harding," she said, faintly—"I wanted to see her."

He only smiled the same charming smile. But the spell was cracked; and Betsy-Barbara herself completed the break. Half an hour later she was winged a hint, which he caught mid-course, as he seemed to catch every delicate shaft of meaning. He rose and bade her a formal good night. "I hope I may sing with you again," he said at parting.

Betsy-Barbara went to her own room. She dived over her preparations for undressing, making a dozen starts and stops. She was not sleepy; a hundred currents of thought were crossing and recrossing in her mind. So at last she threw a kimono over her evening gown and sat down at the window, motionless, and thought.

To make no further mystery, the person who opened the front door and startled the late-state between Estrella and Betsy-Barbara was only Tommy North. He had been searching strenuously for a job. No mystery about that, either. The reason was Betsy-Barbara. The night's quest had failed. The fluid memory of his disposition had fallen almost to absolute zero. In this mood, he unlocked the front door. The parlor was open; he heard the soft thrum of a guitar. Hungry for companionship, he crossed the thick hall carpet to the parlor door. He looked in and beheld Betsy-Barbara sitting with flushed cheeks and folded hands. It was the attitude of a woman who yields. Besides her sat the Estrella person, strumming gently on a guitar and looking a million languages. With a movement that was an explosion, Tommy rushed out, slamming the front door behind him.

His feet, rather than his will, carried him away. There was a saloon at the corner. As by instinct, Tommy rushed into it and ordered a glass of whiskey—his first since the night of the Hanaka murder. In a period incredibly short, he fulfilled the tragic purpose for which he left the boarding house.

An hour and a half after, Tommy North, strutting over and over his blizzard, "New Year in new clothes—wonderful plan of genius!" was waiting toward the select boarding house of Madame Rosalie Le Grande. Laboriously he unlocked the door; painfully, and with occasional mutterings about a blasted life, he reached the first landing.

He strummed the shimmering chords as he spoke.

And on that landing a door opened. Betsy-Barbara stood looking at him.

Yet curiously, as the daylight caught her full, it was not upon Betsy-Barbara's shocked wide-open eyes that he fixed his gaze. He looked at her feet. Betsy-Barbara was wearing high-heeled velvet shoes with paste buckles. In the full light, they sparkled like real diamonds. Betsy-Barbara stepped back with woman's instinctive fear of a drunken man. So one of those slippers moved. Tommy's eyes still toward the round, clutched at it. The motion almost tumbled him over—did make him reel against the door-post.

"Get it!" he held it, he said—"then discover murder."

"Mr. North—Mr. North!" exclaimed Betsy-Barbara and stood helpless, staring at this weird performance.

"Drunk!" he said. "Final disgrace—everything gone now!"

"Mr. North," said Betsy-Barbara, gathering her courage, "listen to me. If you wake people up tonight, they'll never forgive you. Now I'm going to lead you to your room."

He waved her away and started to make his own course up the stairs. Betsy-Barbara followed, her hands extended to give help in case of need. At his own landing, Betsy-Barbara ran ahead, opened his door, switched on the electric light. Then returning, she pushed him in with a snarl:

"Good night—and please try to be quiet."

Betsy-Barbara had endured a day filled with as many varied emotions as it is generally given woman to endure. She applied the best remedy that woman knows for surfeit of feeling. She took down her hair, undressed, and cried herself to sleep.

CHAPTER VII.

Feeling the Music.

Tommy woke next morning to the appropriate mental and physical tortures. When memory had finished with her rack, the future applied (thumb-screws). If he went down to breakfast, he must meet her. He mused and jealousy struggled in him with a perverse pride. At any rate, he would not run away. No, he would face her. He would look into her eyes, which would be shocked and hurt. The last embers of a ruined existence would shine through his own. Then, after she had seen and realized, he would go away forever and send her just one letter—no, just one flower with his card—to let her know what he had felt and what he had cast aside.

Then—since the human spirit is never static—having touched the lowest depths, his thoughts began to rise toward hope. Just how had he behaved last night? What had she seen him do? From the haze of confused memories, a clear fact appeared in this place and that. He had been awake and looking at the landing. How had she looked? Somehow, he could not remember her face. Why? Because he had been looking at her shoe buckles—at something which glittered—why?

The tragic night of the Hanaka murder flashed in upon him, and with it a fact which he had told neither the police in the third degree process nor yet the coroner at the inquest, for the simple reason that he had forgotten it. Now, he remembered it clearly, perfectly. A freak of drunken consciousness had brought back something which he might never have remembered again.

"One what?" he cried, leaping out of bed, headachs and all. "She's looking for evidence—this will fix her!" A cold dip and a dash of bromide restored him wonderfully, for the issues of Tommy North were resilient and young. As he entered the dining room for breakfast, a slight pallor and a little languor indicated the crisis of the night before.

Betsy-Barbara and Constance were already seated. Betsy-Barbara looked him full in the eye.

"Good morning, Mr. North," she said evenly.

"Good morning," replied Tommy shortly; and he slid into his chair and attacked his grapefruit.

The breakfast went on. Betsy-Barbara talked freely; she appeared unmoved even. She included Mr. North in the conversation, throwing him a question now and then. He noticed, however, that these questions came only at regular intervals, as though she were remembering to be very careful. That might be a good sign or it might be a bad one, he could not decide which.

Betsy-Barbara and Constance had risen now. Tommy North, with an effort of the will, rose and followed.

"Miss Lane," he said to the hall; and then, since she did not seem to hear him, he spoke louder, "Miss Lane."

Betsy-Barbara turned. Alone with him now—since Constance had gone on—her eyes showed the emotions which she had suppressed in public.

"What is it?" she said idly.

"I wanted," said Tommy—"I wanted to tell you something."

"I think," responded Betsy-Barbara, "that you needn't make any more explanations—thank you!"

She was turning away when Tommy recovered himself.

"Oh, it isn't that," he said. "I can't explain that, of course. I'm not trying to explain that, Miss Lane. It's just something—something new in the line of evidence—about the Hanaka case—I think it may help."

Betsy-Barbara turned again—and this time quickly. Her look was startled—but heaven be praised—friendly.

"Something new?" she said, breathlessly. "Oh, you angel fresh from heaven! Shall I send for Constance?"

This was the point where Tommy North became a strategist.

"It has to do," he said humbly, "with the way I was last night. You saw me—I shouldn't like to tell her."

"Let's take a walk," proposed Betsy-Barbara, with her wonderful practical calm.

"If you wish," said Tommy North humbly, and yet thrilled with a sense of renewed companionship. Indeed by the time they reached the street he had recovered his spirits so much as to propose because the street was so noisy, that they take a cross-town car and walk up Fifth avenue. The car was crowded; they must stand; at that they did not approach the subject of the moment until they were treading the street of the spongers.

"Well, what is it? I'm dying to know!" said Betsy-Barbara, the instant they reached the avenue.

"Did I do anything strange?" inquired Tommy, "when I first saw you last night?"

"I suppose I can. I never lost a place for incompetence."

"Then there's really nothing more to be said," responded Betsy-Barbara. "Just get an office, and bang out your shingle, and go to work. You may fail, of course. But you'll be doing it for yourself, and that, Thomas W. North, is what you need."

Tommy North had been looking at her as one who sees visions and hears voices. "Why, that's the way I used to think," he said. "I didn't realize until I heard it from you, how I'd got over it."

"The first thing to do when you're starting in business is to find an office," said Betsy-Barbara practically.

"There are lots of good cheap little places in lower Fifth avenue," said Tommy North.

"Let's look at them right now!" exclaimed Betsy-Barbara. And the now-reformed Thomas W. North Advertising Agency wheeled and started southward.

That afternoon, Betsy-Barbara and Rosalie Le Grande were sewing together in the sun parlor. As they pulled buttonings, Betsy-Barbara slipped in a remark which she tried artfully to conceal in general chatter.

"Mr. North tells me," said Betsy-Barbara, "that he is going to start in business for himself."

"That so?" exclaimed Rosalie; "well, he's a nice, smart young man and it will be the very best thing for him." She pulled buttonings for ten seconds before she resumed:

"It will keep him straight. He won't anything I might find about the Hanaka case. And I'm telling that all."

Betsy-Barbara considered.

"It may not mean anything," she said, "and it may mean a good deal." She considered again. "Even if the diamonds were there, maybe it had nothing to do with our case. If anybody had been robbed that night, if there had been any signs of a burglar, this evidence would be very important. But the police say that the house wasn't entered. Then again, what became of the diamonds? It seems no one else noticed them."

"Well," remarked Tommy North cynically, "there were a great many policemen in the house."

Betsy-Barbara walked on, still thinking. "Maybe, I'm afraid, though, that it might be only an aberration," she said finally.

"Perhaps," echoed Tommy North. And now, having finished his introduction, he approached the subject nearest his heart.

"Of course, that's all," he said, "except that I owe you an apology for my condition last night."

"It is to yourself," said Betsy-Barbara, "that you owe the apology. Mr. North, why did you do it—again?"

Now it was in Tommy North's impulses to tell exactly why he did it—to come out with the truth, accompanied by his opinion of philandering Spaniards. But that would have amounted to a declaration, and to declare his feelings for Betsy-Barbara was leagues beyond his present courage.

"Oh," he said, carelessly, desperately, "I got a jolt. That's all. And I took it out in booze."

"You told me the other night it was because you hadn't anything better to do. Mr. North," she added, suddenly lifting her blue eyes to his, "I'm going to ask a very personal question. I'm not asking it for curiosity. I've a reason, which I'll state later—have you saved any money?"

"I'll tell you the shock," replied Tommy, "but I really have. I inherited three hundred dollars a month ago. And my mother made me promise one thing—that I'd save a little every week. I have five hundred dollars in the bank."

Betsy-Barbara nodded her wise and golden head.

"That will do beautifully for a start," she said.

"A start at what?" inquired Tommy. "At the Thomas W. North Advertising Agency."

"At—"

"The Thomas W. North Advertising Agency. Its founded now, 10:15 a. m. October sixteenth, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-sixth street, New York!"

have to be helped up to his room for some time, I hope."

Betsy-Barbara stared and flushed.

"Oh! Did you see it?"

"Now, my dear, I think it was brave an' nice of you. It's what any girl should have done, an' it's what most good girls wouldn't have the decency to do. No woman's a real lady when she's too much of a lady. Yes—I heard him stumble, an' I come out an' looked."

"I—just opened his door and pushed him in," said Betsy-Barbara, blushing furiously.

"An' quite enough—I saw that, too," Rosalie pulled buttonings for a quarter of a minute more. Then she added, "I suppose you called him down all he needed when you took that walk this morning."

"Oh, that wasn't the reason!" cried Betsy-Barbara, driven back on her maiden defenses. "It wasn't that. I really didn't want to see him. But he had something new to tell me about—the case—or thought he had. Something he'd forgotten—something which came back to him last night when he was—well, you saw." And detail by detail she repeated Tommy North's story about the diamond clatter. Rosalie, as she listened with downcast look, used all her will to keep her head steady and her fingers busy.

"That's interesting," she remarked, in a matter-of-fact tone, when Betsy-Barbara had finished. "But I don't know it's important. They think they see funny things when they're drunk an' they're ready to swear to 'em when they sober up. Intend to tell Mrs. Hanaka or the lawyers about it?"

"I thought I might—I'm doing every least thing to help."

"Well, the evidence of a drunk wouldn't go at all in a court of law," pursued Rosalie, her eyes still on her work. "Mr. North is pretty humiliated already, an' he's a nice young man, an' he'll probably cut out drink now he's in business for himself. Still, if you think it's your duty—"

"Oh, I hope you think it isn't," said Betsy-Barbara. "I don't want to put Mr. North in that position, again."

"Can't see where it's the least bit of use, an' I wouldn't only do Mr. North harm," replied Rosalie. "If you was me, would you french this seam? Yes, I guess it looks more tasty that way."

Rosalie turned the conversation to a discussion of autumn fashions. She sewed and chatted for ten minutes. Then she looked ostentatiously at the clock.

"Gracious! A quarter to four an' I must be down-town quarrellin' with that laundry at a quarter past!"

She rose, gathered coat, hat and gloves, and hurried to the corner drug store from which she made by telephone an immediate appointment with Inspector McGee. They met in Abingdon square, a rendezvous half-way between her house and headquarters. She proceeded to business at once.

"I've been just sittin' on this Hanaka case, inspector," she said. "Knew if I waited long enough, somethin' would hatch. It has, but I can't say yet whether it's a rooster or a duck. In the first place, when's the grand jury goin' to get to the Wade indictment?"

"Pretty soon, I guess. I've been holding them off until I get more evidence."

"Well, keep holdin' 'em off." "Honest, what have you got?" "Wouldn't you like to know? Here Rosalie broke out all her dimples, so that Inspector McGee smiled on her. "Call it a hunch from the spirits," said the inspector, half playfully. "I know your kind of spirits."

"Well, call it a woman's notion then, if you like that any better. The grand jury's the first thing. Next, that old house of Mrs. Moore's is still vacant, isn't it? I want to go through it with you from top to bottom—an' I've got to do it so I won't be seen."

"That's easy. We can enter the block from the other side and go in by the back door."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

IT WILL PAY YOU

To read our advertising columns carefully. You will find bargains mentioned there every day.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

BIBLE STUDY

THE REPORT OF THE SPIES

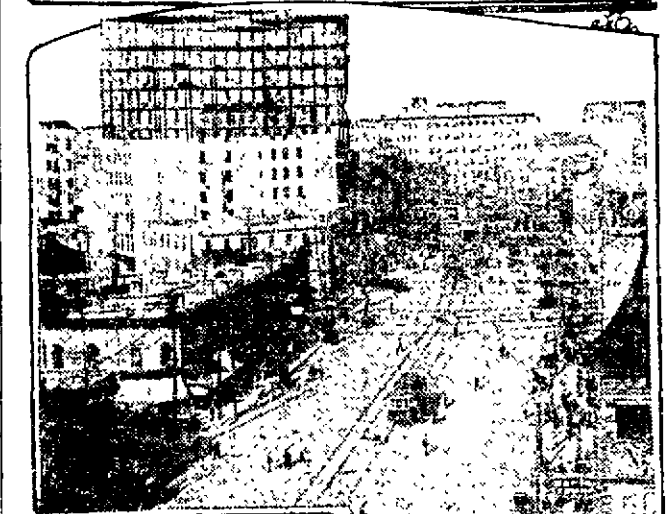

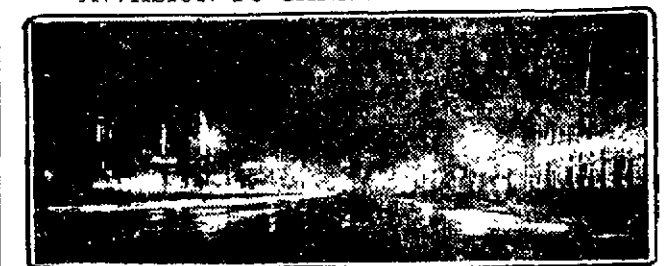

Numbers 13:1-3, 17 to 14:25—Oct. 19.

"If God be for us, who can be against us?"—Romans 8:31.

THE SPIES' first journey from Egypt to Mt. Sinai, where they remained about a year. Their second journey began after Miriam had been received back into the camp. Their journey led through a barren wilderness scorched by the sun, very different from Sinai's valleys, in which they had rested. The distance to Kadesh-Barnea, on the border of Canaan, was approximately 100 miles. The journey was beset with unknown dangers—serpents, wandering bands of Arabs, lack of water, etc. The Israelites, including women and children, household goods, cattle, sheep, etc., were slowly, apparently, traveling the way, as they arrived at the time of the first ripe grapes July.

Kadesh Barnea, their objective point, is a delightful place, well watered—a sharp contrast to the Desert of Paran. Here they rested and refreshed themselves. Moses, full of faith, proposed that they proceed forthwith to enter Canaan, the Land of Promise.

FABULOUS WEALTH ADDED BY AMERICAN INVASION TO CANADA'S RAILWAY GIANT

The new Winnipeg by night and by day, and President Shaughnessy.

such fabulous gains, the greatest grain market of the continent has moved from Chicago, first to Minneapolis, then to Winnipeg. The bumper crop of 1913 will put Winnipeg away in the lead over all competitors.

The receipts of grain at various big centers throw light upon the astounding prosperity of the transcontinental railway. Sir Thomas reported that premiums on wheat futures to the amount of $105,000,000 have been invested in the general improvement of the property without capital liability.

Thirty years ago the pessimists laughed at the folly of building a railway that they said "would not pay for its axle grease;" today its president calmly states that $230,000,000 have been invested in the past ten years on improvements and additions and then caps his climax by picturing the investors paying a total of premiums of $105,000,000, ranging from 25 to 75 per cent, into the company's treasury over and above the face value of the new stock.

During the decade in which the income of his company has made

But the Israelites were timid. They had no knowledge of war, excepting a little experience with the Amalekites near Mt. Sinai. Their caution overbalanced their faith. They urged upon Moses the sending of the twelve spies. These apparently were divided under two leaders, Caleb and Joshua. One party went the length of the land, and returned in forty days; the others took a shorter journey and returned sooner.

The spies were cautious men and gave a truthful report of the land, declaring that its cities had high walls and would be difficult to overcome. They reported also that they had seen giants. The report of the ten is described as an evil report because they presented the matter from the viewpoint of its difficulties, as in contrast with the report made by Caleb and Joshua, which was styled a good report, because encouraging.

The spies really should have considered themselves as a committee of ways and means for entering Canaan, rather than for deciding whether it was possible to enter. The possibilities were already determined by God's promise; hence Joshua and Caleb left these out of account. If God could deliver them from the Egyptians and the Amalekites He surely could fulfill His promise to bring them into Canaan.

Did God Encourage War?

In studying this lesson, many are perplexed. They say, "It seems unreasonable to believe that God gave such a message to Moses and the Israelites. Contrast this with the Scriptural declaration that God 'will make wars to cease unto the ends of the earth.' Agnostics inquire, 'Where is the justice of commissioning the Israelites to steal the lands of the Canaanites, and to exterminate utterly all the people?'

To understand the Bible, we must view it from its own standpoint, and not from that of our crowd formula or in the darker days, nor from that of our own imperfect reasoning. The Bible is beautiful, consistent, God's only when viewed in its own light.

We must remember that the Bible antedated the theories of our creeds, which tell us that those slaughtered Canaanites went straight to an eternity of torture because they did not know the true God and Jesus Christ, the Savior. The Bible tells us that all mankind are children of Adam, and all perishing because of his death sentence. When they die, they are not alive anywhere. They are dead. They are suffering the penalty that God pronounced. 'Dylax, thou shalt die.'

It matters not, therefore, in what way we die, or very much whether our experiences be longer or shorter. In the case of the Canaanites, God did not claim that their iniquity had come to the full. That is, God determined that they were merely combating the earth.

God was using the Israelites as a typical people, through whom He was making types and shadows of coming blessings. He would give Canaan to Israel, to illustrate the destruction of the works of the flesh and the Devil, which His people would accomplish in themselves by fighting the good fight of faith and overcoming the evil tendencies of their own flesh.

Although God is not bound by Justice to give future life to anybody, He has arranged to do so. To this end Christ has already died for the sins of the whole world—including the Canaanites. Aside from this Plan of Redemption the whole race would have perished. But by God's grace we are to be recovered from death.

So we read, "God so loved the world that He gave His Only Begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him might not perish, but have everlasting life." Messiah's Kingdom—the Redeemer and His Church, His Bride, the members of which are now being reaped from the world—will for a thousand years bless, uplift and restore all the nations of earth—from sin, degradation, death.

THINGS ALL OUGHT TO KNOW

As Christian Bible Students—The Satisfactory Proof of "Why God Permits Evil."

One of the questions which comes to nearly every thinking mind today is, "Why does God permit evil?" As we look about us in the world we observe that it is filled with sorrow and trouble, sickness and pain and every trial we could enumerate, and we cannot help wondering WHY GOD ALLOWS IT. We realize that He is almighty and that He could prevent it if He wished. We read in His Word that He is more willing to do so for His children than are earthly parents for theirs, and we know how much that means; yet, of countless it seems that those who try to do and live right have the most trouble. This question is made very clear in a book entitled, "The Divine Plan of the Ages." Every statement is backed by Scripture, and shows that while God does not sanction evil, HE HAS A PURPOSE IN ALLOWING SIN AND DEATH TO REIGN THESE SIX THOUSAND YEARS. This ad many other subjects of deep interest to all of God's people are discussed fully and in language easy of comprehension.

In English, German, Swedish, Danish, Norwegian, Italian, French, Greek, Hungarian, Spanish, Polish, Hollandish, Finnish, Syriac and Turkish—preparation.

355 pages, cloth bound, 35 cents postpaid. Address Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WESTERN MARYLAND IS AFTER TOURIST TRAFFIC TO SOUTH

New Road, for First Time, Is Making Through Excursion Rates.

A BIG BOOST FOR BALTIMORE

Officials Believe That Much Travel
Will Be Routed Through the Monumental City Which Heretofore Has Gone Elsewhere; New Tariffs Out.

That the Western Maryland Railway Company, in the transition from a local carrier to an important part of a new trunk line system, is gradually extending its business to sections of the United States hitherto untouched, is shown by the arrangements which have just been made by the railway company, by which it will participate, for the first time in its history, in the winter tourist traffic between the north and south during the coming winter.

Announcement has just been made to the effect that the Western Maryland has just issued tariffs entailing business of this character, which will permit the company to route tourists by either rail or water to Florida and other southern states. The winter tourist rates become effective October 20.

The arrangements just perfected by the railway company are highly important so far as the Western Maryland is concerned, as the company has never before been in a position to compete for winter tourists moving between the North and the South. By reason of the new tariffs issued, establishing through rates, the Western Maryland will be able to offer winter tourist service between the West, Northwest and South via Baltimore.
In view of this fact, it is predicted that the new direct southern service made possible by the Western Maryland, will be the means of diverting many of the tourists bound for the South through this city. In this way, the Western Maryland will bring Baltimore into such greater prominence in the eyes of travelers who seek the warm climate of the Southland during the winter months. By routing them through the Monumental City, the company will permit the people from the West to get their own impressions of Baltimore's progressivness, and the attractions that it has for the merchant and manufacturer, or for the person who desires to establish a new home.

By issuing the new tariffs that it has, the Western Maryland thus opens up new fields of business for itself.
In the old days, the road, being practically a local carrier, was not in a position to reach out for business of this kind, but the new era which has been ushered in as the result of the Western Maryland's new tariff initiative, has presented greater opportunities which are being availed of by the company.

IN SOMERSET COURTS

Suits for Divorce Are Brought by Two Women.

Special to the Courier.—
SOMERSET, Oct. 18.—County Commissioner Jacob Kountz of Somerset today instituted separate proceedings against Charles E. Snyder of Queensbury township to recover possession of a farm of 100 acres. Kountz also brought an action in as much to recover $221 from Snyder, alleged to be due him for two horses he sold the defendant about a year ago.
Kountz claims that Snyder violated a lease under the terms of which he rented the farm for a period of three years.

Annie L. Pitt of Somerset township yesterday brought an action in divorce to secure a separation from her husband, William Harry Pitt, whom she charges with deserting her on Mar. 19, 1912. They were married December 21, 1903.

Carrie Gustafson of Wintner, yesterday filed a bill in divorce against Theodore Gustafson, who is charged with so cruelly and barbarously mis-treating his wife that she was compelled to leave him a year and a half ago. They were married December 26, 1903.

AMATEUR NIGHT

Uniontown Walks Off With Honors at the Arcade Theatre.

The amateur actors at the Arcade Theatre are getting consistently better and last night's capped the climax.
Of the eight acts three were almost professional in the manner in which they were presented. The first sisters of Uniontown, prettily costumed, as boy and girl, sang very charmingly two songs and followed with some dainty and well executed dance steps.
"Doc" Husted also pleased with his clog dancing.

The Berg sisters were given the $5 prize. Irene Sutton of town won the $5 prize. "Doc" Husted was given $2, while Irene McGilte, who sang, got $2.
Uniontown won the contest. The performance made a hit with the audience.

BIG INCREASE

Iron Ore Output for 1912 Shows $20, 000,000 Gain.

A report on the production of iron ore, pig iron and steel by Ernest P.
Burchard, of the United States Geological Survey, has been issued as an advance chapter from Mineral Resources for 1912. It can be had on application to the Director of the Survey. The report includes statistics of production showing a highly prosperous condition in the iron and steel industries for the year, the total output of iron ore being valued at $197, 020,152, an increase of $20,000,000 over 1911. The report also contains brief accounts of the iron ore resources of California, Montana, Arkansas, and the adjoining portions of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia.

HENRY G. DAVIS IS NEARING 90; LAUGHS
AT SICK REPORT.

HENRY GASSAWAY DAVIS

ELKINS, W. Va., Oct. 18.—Former United States Senator Henry Gassaway Davis, once candidate for Vice President on the Democratic ticket with Alton B. Parker, who was reported severely ill, laughed at the report that he was in declining health. He said that he was preparing to visit Washington and for his ninetieth birthday anniversary on November 18. But Mr.
Davis' friends realized that his advanced age might at any moment tell against him even in a slight illness which he himself might consider slight.

KANSAS SPEAKS PLAINLY

Says High Schools Train Girls Away From Home Life.

WAYNESBURG, Oct. 18.—The Greene county Teachers' Institute closed its annual session yesterday afternoon. For the first time in the history of the county every teacher was in attendance. Prof. William A. McKeever of Manhattan, Kan., professor of child welfare in the Kansas University, who has traveled over the entire United States and made a close study of schools, said:

"Pennsylvania has an unusually good school code, and ranks high in the administration of her schools, but in the matter of education of her girls she is still committed to nineteenth century methods. The typical high school of the state is training girls away from the home life instead of toward it, as it should be. Every grammar school, and especially every high school, in Pennsylvania should maintain a course in domestic science and the household arts. These plain, practical subjects should take the place of the higher mathematics and certain so-called culture subjects now overemphasized and tending to give a girl a false idea that she is too much refined ever to take her place as wife and mistress in a common home."

BUY COAL LAND

Pittsburg Men Take Over Holdings of Defunct Company.

John A. Bell, president of the Colonial Trust Company of Pittsburg, and associates have purchased the properties formerly owned by the Washington County Coal Company, lying in Jefferson township, Washington county.

The properties consist of about 800 acres of Pittsburgh-seam coal and surface, upon which the Cedar Grove mine was opened about 200 years ago and well equipped under the direction of S. F. Sanford, and the Cross Creek railroad, which runs from Junction with the Washington-Pittsburg railroad to the mine.

The property was purchased and developed by New Castle parties, but before they were able to make a profit out of it the bond holders foreclosed for defaulted interest, etc., and bought the property to save themselves. It was from the bondholders that Mr.
Bell and his associates purchased.

A flood in the territory did great damage to the railroad banks and bridges, but it is understood that an expense of about $25,000 is to be made and the railroad repaired and the mine reopened.

DR. BARNES

PHYSICIAN AND SPECIALIST

Established on Grand Boulevard and Highway 100 miles and West of Connellsville, Pa. Specialties: Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Neuritis, Sciatica, etc.
Consultation Free. Office Hours: 10 A.M. to 6 P.M.

At The Second National Bank Building, Uniontown, Pa.
Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. At 100 West Main Street, Connellsville, Pa. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Sundays
Appointments by Telephone. Office Hours: 9 A.M. to 6 P.M.

Sample and booklet free

F. T. EVANS,

Connellsville, Pa.

RELIANCE

RUBBER

ROOFING

Here's roofing you don't have to paint or repair.
Here's roofing made so uniformly good that the manufacturers guarantee ten years service, or more, without painting or repairing.

Sample and booklet free

F. T. EVANS,

Connellsville, Pa.

WRIGHT-METZLER COMPANY.

Store Closes Daily at 5.30; Saturdays at 10 P. M.

What Comes Out of the Mouths of Stores

and spreads itself over the page of a newspaper does not always conform to the ways of the store whose mouth is opened.
John Adams once said of George Washington that he had a most remarkable mouth—nothing foolish ever escaped from it.

A store's published advertisement is the mouth of that store speaking to all whose eyes encounter it.

THE STORE WINDOWS

are its eyes—but better trained eyes than those of individuals whose innermost thoughts they sometimes disclose.

You may see in the store's eyes wonderful things wonderfully priced; and its mouth may blab of equal wonderments only to find upon investigation that both have lied outrageously in the matter of

FAIR-PRICING A THING

$35.00 as the price of a piece of merchandise—and plainly displayed on the item, brought down by haggling to $27.50 or $25.00—is a store lie and an insult to any shopper. Suppose you trusted that store and were above haggling to secure something worth $35.00. Your faith cost you $7.50 or $10.00, and the store was dishonest to that extent.

Can't you see the justice of a good store quoting its low price first—and holding to it?
And the injustice of the other kind of a store putting on a price that it can lower to suit the purchaser—and still make its profit? Certainly! It's plain to everybody. So, Wright-Metzler Company is tooth and nail against

ALL STORES THAT DOUBLE-PRICE THEIR GOODS

—not as a personal issue but in fairness to all people that spend their money in Connellsville. We simply keep close to our principles to sell perfect goods, so graded that you can choose a modest quality or the highest grade of its kind—and pay a

FAIR, ONE-PRICE,

for whatever you select.
An over-carefulness in picking warrants the lowest price first—and no changing except

FOR AN HONEST,

reasonable reason. If the thing is the last of its kind, or wanted disposed of hurriedly, you get its lower price instantly and without haggling.
The store is expanding under this act of fairness and by other good service, but it will never be too big to DEAL SQUARE-LY.

WRIGHT-METZLER COMPANY

IS THE PLACE WHERE I WANT MY CLOTHES TO COME FROM.
THEY LOOK SO WELL AND WEAR SO LONG THAT MOTHER THINKS
"I'M CAREFUL."

NORFOLK Suits for boys are the fashion—a fact that is responsible for a quantity of

TWO-PAINTS

PLAIN SUITS
selling at $4.00 for the $5.00 grades; $3.00 for the $4.00
grades—all wool, durably made and up to Wright-Metzler's standard of vouchered-for quality.

BOYS' SWEATERS.

In sizes for 6 to 14 year old fellows. Oxford, maroon, cardinal and navy. Pockets, pearl buttons and high square collars, worth
$1.50, selling at ..... $1

New Leather Hand-Bags Have Pleats

Without seeing them you might not realize how attractive they are. A new pleated pin-seal bag at $10.00 has a soft leather ribbon handle and five fittings, including a purse on a chain. Other pin-seal bags with box pleats have several fittings. They sell at $5.00 and upward.

In pin Morocco is a new plain bag with a soft strap handle and four fittings. $5.50 to $7.50.
Leather bags at $1.50 to $1.00 are numerous. The collection embraces Dry Goods Store.

Shelter for 500 Under These $1.00-$1.50 Umbrellas

Something of what used to be called a "bargain," too—for the whole 500 were made to use up a manufacturer's surplus cloth. Fast black fabrics, water-proofed; rustless steel frames and an assortment of handles in mission style. Women's sizes, $1 and $1.50 each.

New Fiction

Seems that the latest books are bound to reach here first—and shown long before other stores receive their supply. Glance over the list below! It contains new titles and the names of writers who write interestingly. Ask the prices of these books before paying for a like title elsewhere. We can save you considerable.

POLLY ANNA

Eleanor H. Porter.
THE WAY HOME
Hush King, author of
"The Inner Shrine."
A POOL AND HIS MONEY
Geo. Barr McCutcheon.

THE IMPOSSIBLE BOY

Wileox Putnam.
THE INSIDE OF THE CUP
Winston Churchill.
V. V. IVES
Henry Snyder Harrison.
BUSINESS ON LIFE
Robt. W. Chambers.
Book Section.

October Specials

Short Lengths
Dress Woolens
HALF PRICE

Short Lengths
Wash Textures
HALF PRICE

Soiled Blankets
And Comforts
HALF PRICE

Assortments of Curtain Stuffs
HALF PRICE

Hallowe'en

Cards, invitations, seals, post cards, booklets and cut-out favors.

COATS

For Women: Girls

The variety, not only of materials and colors, but of styles, will gratify ALL women who like a wide assortment to make selection from:

Baby Persiana Coat, Sails Persiana, Chinchilla, Cut Chinchilla, Zebeline, Broadcloth, Velour, Cut Astrakhan, Bayswater Stripes, Wide Wales, Wool Eponge, Boucle, Matalasse and Novelty Mixtures.

Black, brown, gray, leather, taupe, navy, French blue, black with red,
brown or blue.

Cutaway styles of varying length.
Deep, warm collars, deep cuffs, plain or belted backs. Linings of rich colored silks and satins.

$10.00, $12.50, $15.00, $19.75 to $35.00.

ENGLISH SPORT COATS.

Soft, thick, warm cloths—Boucle, chinchilla, wool plush, eponge, kersey. ALL in that jaunty, boyish style, straight of cut, with wide belts and deep pockets. Small women's and girls' sizes.

Scarlet, purple, rose, French blue, navy, mahogany, tan.
$5.50, $8.50, $10 to $15.

CHOOSING THE SUIT

IS A MATTER FOR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION.

Autumn no longer countenances the dailiness of summer, nor any of its tokens. Autumn suit-time is at its height—the time of picking and choosing, of debating points of becomingness, of discriminating in matters of style.

SUITS AT $15.00 TO SUITS AT $75.00

each is priced fairly.

Wright-Metzler Company